

How to Install the UnslingIt on a rifle with a bipod

I have a bipod attached to my rifle. Will the UnslingIt still work for me?

Absolutely! Attaching the UnslingIt to the bipod takes an extra step, but the pictures below will walk you through the process. You will notice a wonderful feeling of weight difference using the UnslingIt with a bipod equipped rifle!

First, remove your bipod.

The connector is attached by placing 1 loop on each side of the rifle. With the large knot on top of the barrel.

Now wrap each loop over the sling swivel stud or other type of stud that is mounted to your rifle.

Then, loosely attach your bipod to the stud.

Cinch up the loops underneath the bipod then simply tighten the bipod down.

Voila!

The UnslingIt is attached!

Don't worry about the picture showing the knot sticking straight up. The weight of the backpack harness will lay it over when you raise your rifle to shoot.

HAPPY HUNTING!
