Please join us at Mon Ami Gabi in Oakbrook Center for a luncheon and an informative technical session on wireless pneumatic DDC control . Pneumatic thermostats waste energy, negatively impact occupant comfort, and are difficult to maintain since they provide no visibility or remote control of HVAC zones. They are still in 70% of buildings because traditional rip-and-replace DDC retrofits are extremely expensive, invasive, and disruptive to occupants. The Wireless Pneumatic Thermostat (WPT) reduces the cost of modernizing these HVAC controls by 60-80%, is non-invasive, and can be installed in minutes so occupants are not disrupted. With a payback of 2-3 years, the WPT makes it possible for older buildings to achieve similar performance as new buildings. Mr. Romanco will present on how to apply smart building technology to an older pneumatically controlled HVAC building system .

Please RSVP by Friday September 15th to Teri Lewand at teri.lewand@att.net.
