

Long Pond, Yarmouth

General Information

Long Pond in Yarmouth is a 62 acre great pond with an average depth of 7 feet and a maximum depth of 31 feet. Transparency is good, extending to 15 feet. Aquatic vegetation is common, but limited primarily to the southern end and scattered locations near the shoreline. The bottom is composed of rubble, gravel and sand. The pond is fed by swamps and cranberry bogs and drains to the Parker River. The 2.3 miles of shoreline is heavily developed with residential homes and town beaches.

Recreational Access

Long Pond in Yarmouth is located just north of Route 28 and west of the Bass River. There are several access points provided by the town of Yarmouth, most of which are suitable only for shoreline fishing, but a paved boat ramp located at the end of Davis Road on the southwestern shore is suitable for launching cartop boats and canoes. There is a three horsepower limit on outboard engines enforced by the Town of Yarmouth. Please contact the Town of Yarmouth for additional information and/or restrictions pertaining to public access of Long Pond.

Fish Populations

The following fish species were found during MassWildlife surveys: Yellow Perch, White Perch, Largemouth Bass, Chain Pickerel, Brown Bullhead, Sunfish, Golden Shiner, Alewife, and American Eel.

Fishing

Long Pond is stocked in the spring Rainbow Brown, and Brook Trout. It is primarily a spring put-and-take fishery with limited holdover potential. In addition to stocked trout in the spring, this pond also offers a good fishery for Largemouth Bass and Yellow Perch. There is always the possibility of taking a good Pickerel as well. A good forage base is provided by sea-run Alewives which ascend the Parker River to Seine Pond and from there to Long Pond. The southern half of the pond is particularly good for bass fishing in April and May.

Long Pond has produced Brook Trout, Largemouth Bass, Chain Pickerel, Yellow Perch, White Perch, Brown Bullhead, and Sunfish that meet minimum sizes for recognition by the Freshwater Sportfishing Awards Program. Other nearby Ponds include Scargo Lake in Dennis and Slough and Walkers Pond in Brewster.
