

For years I have wanted a screened porch to sit on. Well, now that I am almost 62, I had better have it built. The workers arrived on August 28th to begin work. Hooray!

Oh what a joy it is to see the porch framing beginning to take shape. I plan to spend there some quiet, restful moments in my otherwise hectic life.

Middleton Drive is getting its first "tear down and build a new house." A contractor tore down a little house and is erecting what you see. The price for the new house will be $650,000!

Mary Dana, Dan, and Jeffrey took a trip West in July. Among the places we saw were the Grand Teton Mountains.
