Welcome to March 2018!
I am a happy camper that we are headed to cooler weather. I can feel a touch of that Autumn briskness in the early morning air already. The mornings are also remaining darker for longer. Changes like the seasons are always guaranteed in life and all situations are temporary.

I took an out of the blue trip to New Zealand and it was a great thing to do as it took me out of my everyday environment so that I could clear my mind and start to pay more attention to my own divine guidance. We all have a life purpose which, as souls, have chosen to pursue during this lifetime. When life is not going well and you are continually hitting walls, unable to make the progress you envisaged, then at some point you need to start asking yourself what the message is. I have just been through one of these points in my life. I found that I have not been absolutely true to my divine life purpose or destiny. Those who know me may disagree. The truth is that I am here to be a psychic medium, mentor and non-fiction author of spiritual knowledge. Years ago I had a very flourishing business doing readings, teaching workshops and spiritual development circles. I did this for 20 years, then when I came to Australia, everything changed and I changed direction. It has taken me another 10 years to return to my true life purpose. I do not regret the journey because I have learnt so much and understand human nature intimately. With the completion of my latest book, it is closing the door on my last 10 years and my healing work. I have also had my Essential Practices for Light Workers course approved and registered, so that makes 3 courses I have personally pioneered and registered first in Australia. My courses are online and are unique. I have always been passionate about Light Workers being authentic and working with integrity and being professionally trained, which is my motivation for developing this course. I will be doing readings in person and on skype plus mentoring online and naturally writing more books. I have started book 5!! This way I am able to share my knowledge and experiences far and wide. I am very happy to come home to my true divinity, my authentic self. I am working freelance between Castle Hill and St Leonards.

My final Reiki Master Teacher Course is being held on 28/03 and 4/04 at Castle Hill if anyone is interested. This is the ending of 24 years of teaching and healing with Reiki. I will not be doing any further classes. Besides I have taught many new masters so I can recommend a few for you.

I will continue with this Newsletter as it is a way of keeping you informed of what is happening and what is to come.

I will not be doing any further Meditation Classes this year. I am however doing some Theta Healing sessions at this stage. I have trained another practitioner in Glenwood with Systemic Pathways Clearing Healing. Don’t underestimate this healing for detoxing systems, clearing them all physically as well as energetically which increases your health, energy and wellbeing. It also assists current physical problems to heal quickly. Safe for everyone of all ages starting in pregnancy. Safe for those with heart problems.

If you would like a practitioner recommendation from me for Reiki and Systemic Pathways Clearing Healing please do not hesitate to contact me. My new way of working is going to be taking me on travels within NSW and up and down the country. It is exciting and something I have dreamt of for a very long time. I was told 25 years ago that this would happen, it has been a long wait.

If you have a dream that you have put aside or given up on, then do not despair, there is clearly plenty of time for it to manifest for you. Keep the love in your heart flowing towards your passion and dreams. This is how manifestation works. It is in alignment with your souls desire and timing.

Birth Flower for February
The Violet
Loyalty, reliable. Faithful friends & partners.
Happy birthday February babies!

Birth Flower for
March
The Daffodil
Endlessly generous & affectionate. Boundless, abundant love.
Happy birthday March babies!
New Release
Final print run in progress!

I am very excited to announce the release of my new book!
‘On Wings of Love The King Returns’.

Who is the King, how is he returning and what is his purpose for doing so?
Never in my wildest dreams could I have prepared for the arrival of this new angel into my life. Angels are not always what you imagine them to be and this one was certainly way outside the square. He arrived by my side with such intensity, commanding my attention as he introduced himself “I am the Angel of the Lord.” From that moment our relationship took many twists and turns, at times being quite fiery, especially after he revealed to me who he really is.

Once I accepted him, he has been steadily and very strongly mentoring, guiding and teaching me very tough lessons about the negative aspects of both sides of life. He has assisted me through intense tests of unconditional love and huge energetic transitions to higher vibratory levels so that I am able to carry out my destiny and my next ‘big job’ with the soul strength I will need to succeed.

The Angel of The Lord is a force to be reckoned with but, he protects me so strongly that nothing can penetrate his energy that surrounds me unless it is of unconditional love. I did not know that I would be dealing with the extent and intensity of evil that lay in wait as we moved into a temporary rental house. My constant prayer was Psalm 23, because I was living in the valley of death. He has proven to me that even the most negative and destructive forces of those on both sides of life can heal and choose to come home to the Light of Divine Oneness and unconditional love.

A nonfiction story of my new exciting adventures with spirit!

Message from my angels

Do not be afraid to venture outside of your realm of everyday living and routine. This is where you will find unlimited possibilities that you had never contemplated previously. The brave and courageous are those who achieve and take the fruits of the Universe. There are plenty more growing and blossoming just waiting for you to reach out and grab them.

They are your birthright and all you are being asked to do is believe you deserve them and claim them. Love and approve of yourself, build your self-esteem and confidence, trust yourself and your guidance and know that you are a spark of Divine Love and Light. Your soul sings its tune in synchronicity with the Universe. Use this affirmation on the right to assist you to manifest your dreams.

I am very excited to announce the release of my new book!
‘On Wings of Love The King Returns’.

Who is the King, how is he returning and what is his purpose for doing so?
Never in my wildest dreams could I have prepared for the arrival of this new angel into my life. Angels are not always what you imagine them to be and this one was certainly way outside the square. He arrived by my side with such intensity, commanding my attention as he introduced himself “I am the Angel of the Lord.” From that moment our relationship took many twists and turns, at times being quite fiery, especially after he revealed to me who he really is.

Once I accepted him, he has been steadily and very strongly mentoring, guiding and teaching me very tough lessons about the negative aspects of both sides of life. He has assisted me through intense tests of unconditional love and huge energetic transitions to higher vibratory levels so that I am able to carry out my destiny and my next ‘big job’ with the soul strength I will need to succeed.

The Angel of The Lord is a force to be reckoned with but, he protects me so strongly that nothing can penetrate his energy that surrounds me unless it is of unconditional love. I did not know that I would be dealing with the extent and intensity of evil that lay in wait as we moved into a temporary rental house. My constant prayer was Psalm 23, because I was living in the valley of death. He has proven to me that even the most negative and destructive forces of those on both sides of life can heal and choose to come home to the Light of Divine Oneness and unconditional love.

A nonfiction story of my new exciting adventures with spirit!

Order through my website
$20.00 plus postage payable by cash or bank transfer.
Post or pick up from Castle Hill by arrangement.

Please visit my newly designed website. I am excited to see the changes that are occurring in my life.
My spiritual path began with readings and clearly this was right for me 30 years ago as it is now.
I wish you all a very safe and Happy Easter! Eat lots of hot cross buns and Easter eggs!!

Until next time …
Love, Light and Blessings to you all.
Nantah 💖