San Tadeo Bird Watching

- Privately owned protected cloud forest located at 15 minutes from Mindo
- Renowned for its Cock-of-the-Rock lek
- And a variety of beautifully colored tanagers, barbets, euphonias, tucanets, arasaris, hummingbirds and more...

Cock of the Rock Lek

Just a 15 minute hike up to a hidden spot will grant you over one hour of delight while you observe the gathering of a dozen scarlet-colored male birds executing their regular performance for one endearing female.

Known as a “lek” this performance led by several “cock of the rock” male birds will completely engage you and leave you smiling for the rest of the day!

After visiting the lek we stop at a cozy observation deck where we enjoy a warm cup of local coffee, tea, snacks and some more birdwatching.

This scene is filled with colorful birds eating local fruit, taking morning showers and pretentiously posing for our cameras.

Scene 2: Colorful Birds

Tanagers, Euphonias,
Thrushes, Toucan barbet...

Last but not least...

Our birdwatching journey ends with a magical encounter with at least 20 species of these fairy-like birds.

Each one different and special, these tiny beings pack a treasure trove of mystifying features that will remind you of the beauty of life.

Scene 3: The hummingbird nook

Milpe Bird Sanctuary

- A 100 HA protected forest located at 1020 to 1150 asl
- A Chocó Andean Foothills Rainforest habitat managed by The Mindo Cloudforest Foundation
- Adjacent to 'Milpe Gardens' which has access to the Chahuayacu river valley and makes a great addition to their ample trail system.
