Experience Highlights

Fiona brings over 25 years' experience as a chartered accountant and insolvency practitioner to support her mediation skills.

Fiona trained with one of the Big 4 accountancy practices and has worked in the Middle East for a year before joining a local firm of chartered accountants. She set up her own practice in 2015 so has experience working in a broad range of business sizes.

Fiona was an Assistant Examiner for the Joint Insolvency Examination Board for five years and sat on the Small Practice Committee of the Association of Business Recovery Professionals for five years helping to organise three national conferences.

Fiona is committed to using her skills and experience to support professionals and business owners resolve financial disputes through mediation.

She is passionate about spreading the power of mediation to a wider audience.

Fiona combines her experience with intuition, questioning and communication skills with her personality to empower those in dispute to find resolution.
