'Whatever the customer wants, the customer gets'

- Marco C. {Owner, Operator}

I've been part of the construction trade for over ten years now and the one thing I had a hard time with over and over again, was witnessing customers go through the pain of dealing with contractors that didn't want to give the customers what they wanted. 'Whatever the customer wants, the customer gets' is my moto, as long as it's within the Canadian Electrical Code. I want nothing more than a happy customer when I leave a customer's home. If the customer is not happy, my job is not done. My mission is to provide high quality electrical work at affordable rates.

'It all begins with doing the job right'

- Marco C. {Owner, Operator}

'It all begins with doing the job right'. My work motto is, do the job right the first time, which means I am very peculiar at everything I do. I pay a lot of attention to detail and try my very best to provide the customer with a finished product he/she will be satisfied with. While providing my services, the safety of my customer and his/her family is always present in my mind, making sure my work meets or exceeds the Canadian Electrical Code standard.
