What are cookies and what do they do?

Cookies are small text files, stored in a browser's directory. Cookies can be used to:

- help a website work more efficiently (by remembering what items or pages were last looked at)
- allow the visitor to perform certain tasks (such as storing items in a shopping basket or logging into a restricted area)
- provide information to the website owner about how visitors use and navigate the website

You can find out more about cookies by visiting: www.allaboutcookies.org/

Most browsers allow you to view, delete and block cookies. To find out how manage cookies, visit www.allaboutcookies.org/manage-cookies.
