EVERYTHING BEGINS AT THE PREWIRE

Being organized from the very beginning helps us through the entire project. All of our wires are run through highways as shown in the picture to the right. This helps with two things: it eliminates noise interference from electrical lines and it allows us to easily identify our wires after insulation has been blown in. All of our wires are labeled to make installs and troubleshooting easy and quick.

WHAT YOU CAN OFFER

Today's home buyers are demanding and want the most value for their hard earned dollar. Sometimes it comes down to a couple small features when choosing between two homes. We want you to be able to tell your buyers "yes" when they ask about technology. Do you offer enhanced security? Yes! Can my living room be wired for surround sound? Yes! Is it possible to put audio throughout my home? or a TV above the fireplace? or a security camera at the front door? Yes, Yes, Yes! Red Dirt Systems gives you an extra advantage over your competition by being able to say "yes" to their needs.

FINISHING THE JOB RIGHT

Neat, organized, labeled, and clean is our goal for every finish job. This helps us troubleshoot in the future or expand the system. Home buyers appreciate a clean and organized system hidden away, but easy to access. Only quality phone and cable modules are used for every install. Let Red Dirt Systems finish the job right.
