Jonathan Leach
Duffield
Arts Festival
Coordinator

This year we have a week long schedule of activities with a bumper weekend of the 23rd and 24th of September. The theme this year is The Beauty of Colour and we aim to bring you a really colourful festival! You will see in this brochure that you will be treated to a wide range of entertainment, from drama sessions for the very young to harmony lessons with Derby A Capella Choir. From stilt walkers to interesting talks. There is a vast array of wonderful singers to some incredible musicians. There is really something for everyone.

We are absolutely delighted with the very high standard of entries for the three competitions: Short Story, Art and Photography. Winners will receive their prizes at the:

OPENING AND AWARD EVENT

Ecclesbourne School
6.30 pm Friday
22nd of September

An evening not to be missed, with author and motivational speaker Andy Cope, trumpeter Cat Johnston and singer and composer Neil White, who is bringing a special choir together to sing a Duffield song he wrote and composed.

The Scarecrow Festival, which will take place across the village will be amazing. At the time of going to print, there were over 70 scarecrows entered..

We hope you enjoy the festival and give it your support by going to many of the events and having a good time, by volunteering or by simply buying raffle tickets. The festival is a not-for profit venture and we would also appreciate any donations. All money raised will be reinvested so that the festival can be staged next year.

A special mention to the hard working and brilliant festival team: Di Hancock, Anne Halliday, Sheila Sismay, Kathryn Hindmarch, Kirstie Pickles, Adam Thompson, Gillian and David Ruck, Paul Wiggins Beate Toyka, Dawn Narborough and Gail Lowe.

We have spent around nine months pulling this together because we love Duffield and its people. We care about our community and want to make something special that people will enjoy and brings people together.

Enjoy!
Best wishes
Jonathan

WELCOME

A festival bursting with fun and colour!

It is so very exciting to be part of an amazing team that is bringing you the second Duffield Arts Festival.

AN EVENING WITH DANA DE WAAL

Starts at 7.30pm
in the Main Hall,
Ecclesbourne School.

Dana de Waal is a singer of exceptional musicianship, warmth, style and character. The startling agility of his voice along with musicality and stamina have delighted audiences in countries as far apart as Bophuthatswana, Germany, Botswana, the Czech Republic, South Africa, and the United States and also in the UK since relocating here more than sixteen years ago.

Accompanied by his wife Anne on the piano and daughter Xephni Butler on the African Djembe, Dana uses this combination to bind together through song, melody, harmony and rhythm, the magic that is undeniably based in their African roots.

This trio makes music across several genres; classical, folk, pop and gospel are all part of the eclectic mix of styles in which they perform. The soul, heart and rhythm of Africa is mixed with the harmony and melodic contour of Western European music.

Sit back and be prepared to be enriched and leave here a different person after their spellbinding performance!

Tickets £8
available from Duffield News,

WESTON CENTRE

10.45 to 11.45 Maxwell Craven Lecture

The renowned author, historian and defender of Derby heritage will give an incredible insight into some of Duffield and Derbyshire's lesser known history.

12.00pm to 1.00pm Mike Severn- Sepia Soldier

A poignant performance of poetry, music and anecdotes, loosely orientated around exploring the history of Reginald James Oliver Severn, an ancestor of Michael who was killed in World War I. The portrait of Reggie, passed down to Michael through the family, was rendered in timeless sepia tones, which is so evocative of the period. Michael brought to life many of the songs and poems which would have been known to a First World War soldier

1.15pm to 2.00pm Rob Bounds – Children's author and illustrator.

Dandelion Blue is about a flock of budgerigars, Rob takes the children through the story then they have the opportunity to bring it to life by making their own birds.

2.15pm to 4.15pm Gillian Ruck – willow weaving

Try your creative hand at making something special.

We wish the Festival every success

A massive THANK YOU

Thank you to Janis Clark's family and friends for the sponsorship of the Short Story competition.

We would like to thank a number of people for their help, support and hard work in making sure the festival happens. So a great big thanks goes to the following:

All the amazing performers, makers and exhibitors who have given their time to make it a great festival.

Our fantastic sponsors: Fletcher and Company, estate agents and Chevin Homes

Duffield Parish Council for their continued support and donation.

Duffield Community Association for sponsorship of the arts competition.

The venues for being so welcoming to the festival: Ecclesbourne School, Duffield Meadows School, Croots Farm Shop, Prizes for the draw: Croots Farm Shop, The Quad, Town Street Tap, The Co-op, Katie Weeds, Scarthin Books, This Boutique, Duffield Hair Design, David James and Ian Wilson Carpets.

Ashley Franklin for pulling together the photography competition.

Duffield Carnival for the temporary storage and the loaning of items.

Judy Clough of Duffield News for her endless support.

Marie Timbrell (Derbyshire County Council) and Carol-Ann Howard for making the library a big part of the festival.

Derby College Public Service Course students and the First Duffield Scout Group for being great volunteers.

Everyone who has offered to volunteer during the festival.

Gail Lowe and Dawn Narborborough (The Scarecrow Ladies) for coordinating the Scarecrow Festival.

Ann Eley of La Designs for her incredible design work.

The short story competition Di Hancock and Richard Eaton, The WI and the Duffield Preschool for offering to provide great food.

Finally to the incredibly hard working and dedicated Duffield Arts Festival Team who have worked tirelessly in bringing to you an amazing festival.

WORD WISE

POP UP POETRY AND SPOKEN WORD

The White Hart Duffield.

Wednesday 20th September from 7pm

Word Wise featuring Jamie Thrassivoulou will be putting on a great evening of spoken word and poetry. It will feature a workshop, an open mic session and then some special guests. A truly entertaining and enjoyable evening. If you haven't been to a spoken word gig before now is your chance. Free admission.

ON THE STREET

Over the weekend

The Colourful Stilt Walkers

Meet and greet and stretch to shake hands with some tall friends who will come in a variety of guises.

Word Wise

Word Wise will be popping up sharing some great poetry and spoken word on the street.

Tom Gray - excellent bagpiper Andy Gilbert Caricatures. Sun

Adults and children will enjoy being drawn by caricature artist Andy Gilbert, who creates each A3 caricature on high quality paper using a combination of black and grey brush pens taking around five minutes to capture each 'Victim', bringing tears of laughter when he reveals their caricature. A small fee is charged.

COLIN HALLIDAY

Duffield based artist with regular solo shows in London and across the UK. Many works are painted en plein air in the countryside that surrounds Duffield and elsewhere in Derbyshire. You can see Colin's work online and call to arrange a visit to his Duffield studio.

2.00pm to 4.00pm

at Weston Centre,
Tamworth Street.

I would like to invite you to be part of this exciting session of sustained piano playing as part of the Duffield Arts Festival!

If you are a piano player and would enjoy playing to a friendly audience, then this is for you. You can play either on your own, with a duet partner or in a 4 or 6 hands piece 'on the spot'. I will provide sheet music for impromptu groupings, and will also be contributing.

Any age or level is welcome and the duration of any piece is something we can chat about. Not a pianist...then bring another instrument! Do also invite your friends and family to come along. Or just pop along to listen. There will be tea and cup cakes too!

For more information, and to take part please contact Beate a.s.a.p. at btwilmshurst@bt.com

CAN YOU HELP?

with the the festival

Can you offer just two hours of your time on Saturday 23rd or Sunday 24th of September?

We are looking for kind-hearted people who can help at Ecclesbourne School, The Weston Centre and Duffield Meadows School.

We need volunteers between 8.30 am and 7 pm.

The festival is a not-for profit venture, it is planned over nine months and is put together for the benefit of the Duffield community and its businesses.

You will be working with a great bunch of people and you will get free entry to all day events.

So, if you can help, and offer just two hours of your time, it would be appreciated.

Email Sheila at: shibby83@hotmail.co.uk,
call on: 07835 334683
or drop your name and contact details into the Duffield Library or Duffield News.
