Solano County Farm Bureau
Business Membership Application

Solano County Farm Bureau has been working to protect agriculture's interests for over 100 years, but we couldn't continue our work without support such as yours. Membership dues not only provide funding for fighting issues that are important to the agricultural community, but also for educational opportunities in the area. Last year alone SCFB provided two scholarships for high school students attending college with an interest in an agricultural field.

Aside from having an organization work on behalf for agriculture, as a member you also receive numerous money saving benefits. The California Farm Bureau Federation continues to provide its members with many discount programs available for viewing at www.CFBF.com/benefits.
We are also very proud of the local benefits your business membership includes:

- Don't forget to take advantage of your one free business card ad in our bi monthly newsletter- the Solano County Farm Bureau News.
- You will also receive your business name and phone number in our Business Member section of every issue of our newsletter absolutely free for the duration of your membership – as well as on our website.
- Have you considered advertising on a regular basis in the Solano County Farm Bureau News? This publication reaches all our members –your target audience- and encourages them to support individuals and organizations that support SCFB.

Of course you will always receive special invitations to Solano County Farm Bureau events, functions, and annual meetings.
