ABOUT ROBIN

BBB's Women in Business
Networking Top 25 Women to Watch in 2012.

Contributing author of Success Powered by Relationships.

Co-author of Hiring Manual for Dentists.

Host of the global weekly radio program Putting Faith & Hope into Your Job Search.

Robin Brun is passionate about helping people & organizations achieve their true potential. She has done this throughout her career in Human Resources, in areas such as Leadership Training & Development, Career Consulting & Recruitment.

Recently, Robin launched Robin Brun Consulting to speak to associations like yours, & help people with their job search. She gained her experience in career consulting while working as Vice President of Consulting Services for the Global leader in the industry, Right Management & later for Zenith Performance Group. As a career consultant, she has coached hundreds of displaced employees through their career transition.

Her services include helping clients write marketable resumes, teaching job search strategies, and creating a career safety net. Robin also coaches her clients prior to interviewing and they enjoy a significant increase in job offers.

If you're ready for a keynote speaker and workshop leader to help you discover your hidden gifts and talents, contact Robin today for your personalized, dynamic presentation.

Robin's success in both group trainings and individual career work results from a realization by people with whom she works that she really cares about them. Robin's compassion and sensitivity to individual needs comes across within minutes. She truly cares about the individuals and groups with whom she works – and they feel it – and respond.

While Robin's compassion and sensitivity are an inherent part of her character, her knowledge of all the areas of work-related human dynamics results in highly effective outcomes for both individuals and groups. People truly learn from Robin, and believe they can achieve the outcomes that they seek – and that she seeks for them.
