Our Story

Every great idea starts with a moment of inspiration. Ours, rather unusually, came on the high seas, some twenty years ago. Both keen sailors, we struggled to understand why mattresses on boats were so uncomfortable. So, on the banks of the River Exe, we began hand-making natural fibre mattresses that breathed, were fabulously comfortable, and fitted neatly into a boat's awkward spaces.

Another lightbulb moment came after the birth of Mark's first child. If we could make eco-friendly mattresses for boats, why not babies, too? After all, they didn't deserve to be sleeping on the harmful toxins found in synthetic materials. With this in mind, we started crafting mattresses for babies with the same pure, properly certified organic materials. We soon discovered that parents were delighted with our eco-conscious approach and, understandably, wanted the same for themselves. And with that, Naturalmat was born.

Mark & Peter

Our Philosophy

Bound up in every Naturalmat mattress is a simple promise, to give you a sublime night's sleep on top of nature's finest ingredients. So all our materials are 100% natural and from sustainable, Fair Trade sources. Where possible, we buy local, particularly our wool, which comes from the sheep grazing in fields just yards from our Devon factory. We hand-tease these natural fibres to ensure the ultimate in comfort and support, before crafting each mattress and topper by hand. A Naturalmat mattress takes five times as long to create as a machine-made mattress, but once you've experienced the supreme comfort they provide, we think you'll agree that it's time well spent.

Our People

At Naturalmat, we believe that people, not machines, make a superior, long-lasting product. Our team of craftspeople ensure every stitch, every fibre, every tufting button and every cover is painstakingly created, teased and checked. When a mattress leaves our factory, we are confident it will deliver years of comfortable, healthy and relaxing sleep.

Our Materials

Wherever possible we only use materials that are pure, organic and local, ensuring local materials go into a local product.

Organic Coir

The central ingredient in our mattresses, coir, is the husk of the coconut. The husk is stripped, soaked, dried and twisted to create a miniature coil and then pressed into sheets of springy, breathable fibre that are simply perfect for mattresses. All our coir is grown exclusively for us in Sri Lanka on the only certified organic coconut plantation. Coir is wonderfully sustainable and 100% of the nut is used.

Organic Lambswool

Our organic lambswool is sourced from Soil Association certified farms in Devon, Dorset and Somerset, all within 50 miles of Naturalmat HQ in Topsham. We use soft downland wool from Poll Dorset and Dorset Down sheep, and then we mix with a bit of Exmoor, to give the fibre more body. Wool is a fantastic natural insulator, helping to regulate temperature keeping you cosy in winter and cool in summer, it is also inherently fire retardant.

Cotton

All the cotton we use is 100% unbleached, undyed and natural. We pre-wash all our cotton and during this process we add extracts of lavender, eucalyptus and lemon, which renders them, anti-mosquito, moth and dust-mite as well as bed-bug resistant. Our covers have a unique herringbone weave, making them resilient and long-lasting. Our cotton sheets and bedding are certified by the Soil Association to GOTS (Global Organic Textile Standard).

Natural Latex

Our latex foam is natural and is made from the sap of the Hevea rubber tree. The sap is whisked to inject thousands of lovely ventilating air bubbles, so the finished product can breathe naturally. It is inherently hypoallergenic, so dust-mites don't like it, and it is incredibly elastic ensuring long lasting comfort and springy support for your mattress.

Cashmere

One of the most highly prized natural fibres available, cashmere comes from the under-fleece of the Kashmir Goat, who, living in mountainous northern India and Pakistan needs a really good coat! Cashmere is three times finer and softer than wool, which gives it better insulating properties, while maintaining excellent breathability.

Horse Hair

Traditionally this is the most favoured of all mattress fillings as you get the most amount of spring from the longest natural fibre, which, no surprises, comes from the horse's tail. It is wonderfully soft but incredibly strong and naturally antibacterial. This highly resilient fibre is brilliant at wicking away moisture from the body and dissipating it into the air.

Mohair

Mohair is the long, lustrous fleece from the under belly of the Angora goat, which is naturally found in the southern hemisphere. Similar to cashmere, it is an extremely soft and fine fibre with excellent heat regulating properties, keeping you warm in winter and cool in summer. Like all wools it is naturally fire retardant so does not require any FR treatment before use in our mattresses.

Bamboo

Bamboo is one of the most sustainable and easily renewable sources of natural fibre. In its fibrous state, bamboo is superbly soft and as smooth as silk, making it a very luxurious ingredient in our mattresses. It also has similar insulation properties to wool, so helps the body maintain an even temperature.

Our Mattresses

We produce two types of mattress, the Natural Fibre and the Pocket Sprung. Both use natural fillings and layers of soft lambswool, cashmere and mohair, while our sprung mattresses contain hundreds of tensioned springs all individually wrapped in cotton pockets.

Baby

For many years this was most of what we did - making nursery mattresses from 100% natural and organic materials. In 2001 we were the first company to make a baby mattress that met all British Standards without using any glues, chemical fire retardants or synthetics of any kind whatsoever, and we believe, we still make by far the best mattresses for babies and children. We make all standard as well as any made to measure size along with a whole range of wonderful organic bedding and stylish furniture.

Using natural fibre technology we make breathable and superbly comfortable mattresses to any shape or size. Whether you need to improve the sleeping experience on your 1978 Westerly Konsort or are fitting out your latest Feadship, we would be delighted to assist.
