NIMBIN ROOTS FESTIVAL ANNOUNCES 2017 LINEUP!

The Nimbin Roots Festival is proud to reveal the incredible line-up of artists who will celebrate authentic roots music at the event in 2017.

More than 50 acts from across Australia and beyond will weave their magic in the counter culture capital from September 15 to 17.

They span a rich array of styles, from the politically-charged folk-pop of Kahl Wallis, to the sweet alt-country sounds of Aria-nominated songwriter Paul Greene.

Audiences will also be treated to gospel-inspired songs of love, loss and redemption from American duo The War and Treaty.

But that's just the tip of the iceberg!

"I believe that people want to hear music from artists who mean it, and that's what you're going to get from these amazing musicians," the co-founder of the festival Louise Bradley said.

"We've added an extra day to the festival and two new stages to fit in all the incredible music and I'm so excited about every single act performing."

Nimbin Roots, which makes use of the town's wonderful performance spaces, will this year feature a new location, The Aquarius Stage, devoted to local artists.

There will also be an Abundance Village, hosting workshops in philosophy, yoga and permaculture.
