Translations

Christus Factus Est

Christ became obedient for us unto death, even to the death, death on the cross. Therefore God exalted Him and gave Him a name which is above all names. Phillipians 2:8-9

Ergebung

Your will, Lord, be done! Darken, quiet the land, In the march of the storm, Shurderring, I see your hand. O, treat us sinners with compassion in your judgement! I bow in humblest grief, with my face to the dust.
Your will, Lord, be done!

Verlorene Jugend

The mountains all bluster, the woods murmur all about-my days of youth, where have you so soon gone?
Youth, precious youth, you have flown from me; o lovely youth, so heedless was my mind! I lost you regrettably, [accidentally,] as when one takes a stone and flings it away into a stream. Sometimes a stone can be reversed in its course and return from the deep flood-but I know that youth will never do the same thing.
