BIOS

Jackson Cowley has always enjoyed music, especially singing, ever since he was a little boy listening to his mother sing. Wanting to explore more that music had to offer, he joined his high school choir in Aurora, Colorado at the beginning of his junior year. While a member of chorus, he was given the opportunity to sing with the Colorado All-State men's chorus his senior year.

Now, a sophomore in the Music Education program, Jackson's plan is to study Music Therapy in graduate school. Since taking lessons with Mr. Moore, he has competed twice at the District NATS (National Association of Teachers of Singing) competition. His freshman year, he placed 2nd in the Classical Division and 3rd in Musical Theater. This past year, he placed first in both categories. Jackson is a member of the Chorus and Chamber Singers and has appeared in the productions of South Pacific and 1776 on campus. He is first thankful to God that allowed him these amazing opportunities at Florida College. He would like to especially thank his family for all of their support - both emotionally and financially.

Savanna Davis began her musical journey at her Tomball, Texas high school where she won many awards including the rank of "outstanding" at the state's Solo and Ensemble competitions. Originally pursuing a nursing degree at Blinn College in Texas, she decided to transfer to Florida College in Music and she is so glad she did. She loves our music program and enjoys all the opportunities offered to her. She had the privilege of being part of the cast of South Pacific, she has toured around the country with the Chorus as well as competing with the Chorus and the Chamber Singers in Austria last summer. She's even glad to be the chorus secretary for Dr. Jon Bassett where she has most recently been helping organize the trip the chorus will take, this summer, when they travel to New York to sing in Carnegie Hall.

Savanna plans to graduate in the spring of 2019 and move to Colorado where she will become a music teacher. Savanna would like to thank Mr. Moore for constantly pushing her to become a better, more efficient vocalist and also her fiancé and all her friends who have always encouraged her.

Originally from Chesterfield, Virginia, Abby Mann is finishing her second year in the Music Education program. She has been extremely active in many of the fine arts courses, including Chamber Singers, Chorus and Wind Ensemble. She was nominated for "Who's Who" and also served as Historian for Omega Chi.

A musical theatre aficionado, Abby has had the pleasure of performing in South Pacific, 1776 and, most recently, performed one of the lead roles in Babes in Arms playing the brassy Bunny. She also competed in the District NATS competition and took 3rd in both the Classical and Musical Theatre divisions. From there, she travelled to Auburn for the Southeast Regional NATS competition where she made the Top 5 in the Musical Theatre division, competing against girls from major universities across the southeastern U.S.

Abby would first like to thank God. She also wants to thank her family for always supporting her and giving her the tough love she needed growing up. She thanks the Chandler family for taking her into their home and Mr. Moore for helping her grow into the singer she is now, allowing her to sing way too much musical theatre, and always giving her his Boston Market cornbread. She would like to give an additional thank you to her collaborative pianist, Mr. Adam Booher, who has been a delight and honor to work with, and without him, would not have survived any competitions.
