

TAKING THE LAND

ENTERING FATHER'S COURT ROOM: GOD THE JUDGE

Friday, 22 September 2017

To be done BEFORE hammering the stake into the ground:

The outline here relates to taking land, but it can be adapted for other issues.

Step One: Preparation

Its important to spend time with God ahead of doing the court room prayers or declarations. You need to give a little time and space to ensuring those taking part are right with God and there's no unconfessed sin etc... Secondly you will need to know what God's original purpose was for the land and how the enemy has sought to defile or corrupt that. If you listen God will reveal this info.

Step Two: Stepping into the witness box.

At this point you will need to declare out loud who you are and on what basis you have the right to bring a case against the enemy. So I might declare "My name is Jayne and I am a daughter of the living God, adopted into his family through the grace extended to me when I choose to accept that Jesus died for my sins. I am under the blood of Christ and Jesus is my advocate before God the judge, who is also my father. I am a coheir in God's kingdom and I come here today on the basis of that, not in my own strength or righteousness, but trusting in God's grace."

One person in the group can do this and speak on behalf of the group while others pray, or you can each do it if you intend to read any declarations out together.

Step Three: The Case Against the Enemy

This is where it helps to know what the land was intended for and how the enemy has sought to defile or corrupt it. Again the case should be declared out loud. "I come here today to ask the judge of the universe to hear a case against the enemy, that he has overstepped his bounds and sought to use for evil what you, Lord, intended for good..."

At this point you add in the specifics God had revealed to you. You finish this section by asking God to take into consideration your case.

Step Four: Cry for Justice

This is where you pray from the heart and ask God to show mercy and kindness toward his children by dispensing justice on the enemy and his agents.

Step Five: Stepping down from the witness box

At this point its good to give some praise and glory to God, to recognise his authority and thank him that he can be trusted to deal with the enemy and dispense justice as he sees fit. You then state that you are leaving the case in God's hands for him to deal with and thank him that you know the outcome will be good, right and fair.
