a novel

how far would you go in an attempt to stop the inevitable?

When Alexandria finds out she is dying she decides to surround herself with the people she loves:

David needs to find a way to be happy again,
Lily just wants everybody to smile.
Margo believes that the universe will help them through this hard time and Elijah will do anything to stop her death from happening.

When five voices of today's generation come together life becomes a mess of metaphor and belief, rituals and prayers, love and grief.
Faith is something attainable but hope is fading fast.
