Triangles D'or
المثلثات الذهبية

Triangles D'or is a Saudi Real Estate agency, with an in-depth understanding of the market in Europe.
(Golden Triangles) or in Arabic (المثلثات الذهبية)
There are several places in different countries around the world named in different languages (Golden Triangle), yet mostly they refer to unique luxury commercial or residential areas.

This book is written by a young man suffered with bipolar disorder.
I designed the book cover inspired by his story.

VISUAL ASSIST

My role at NCP is to develop several projects from building the concept to the implementation
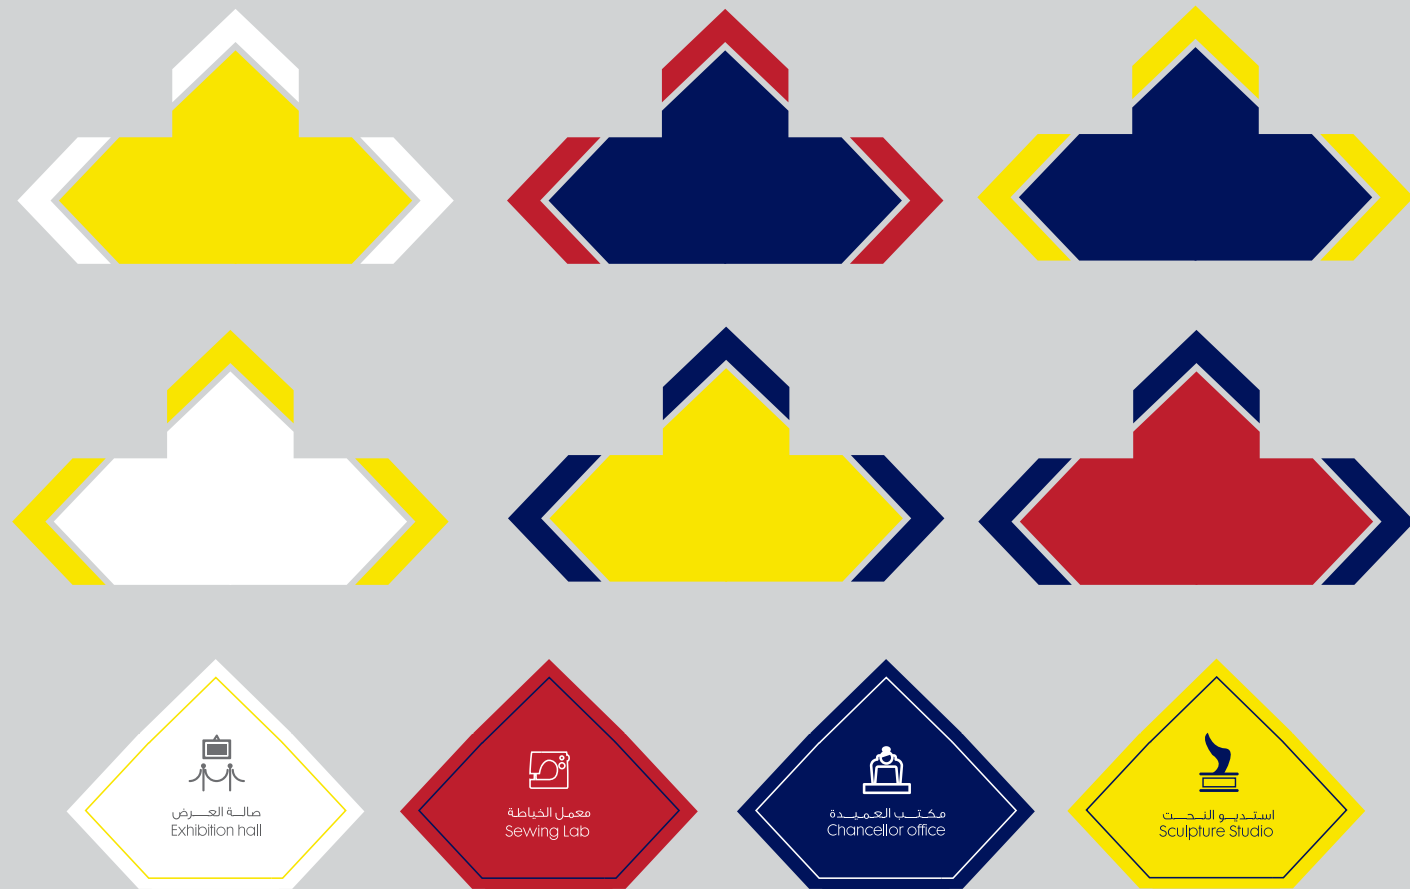

I asked to design a wayfinding system for the College of Art and design, (Princess Nourah Bint Abdulrahman university) to make it easy for the students, employees, and guests to know their way around the collage in an creative way.
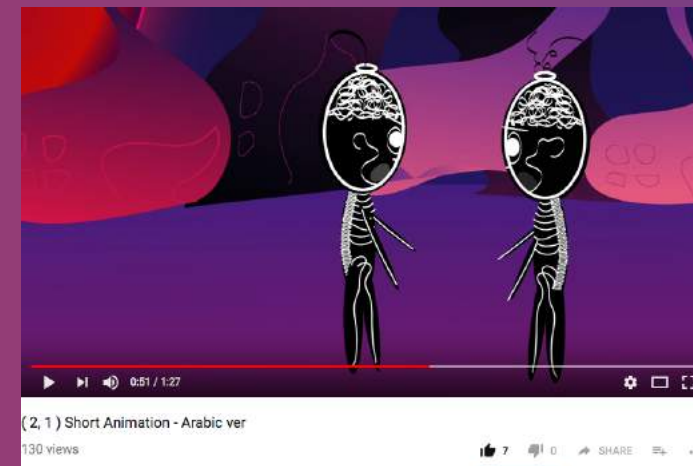

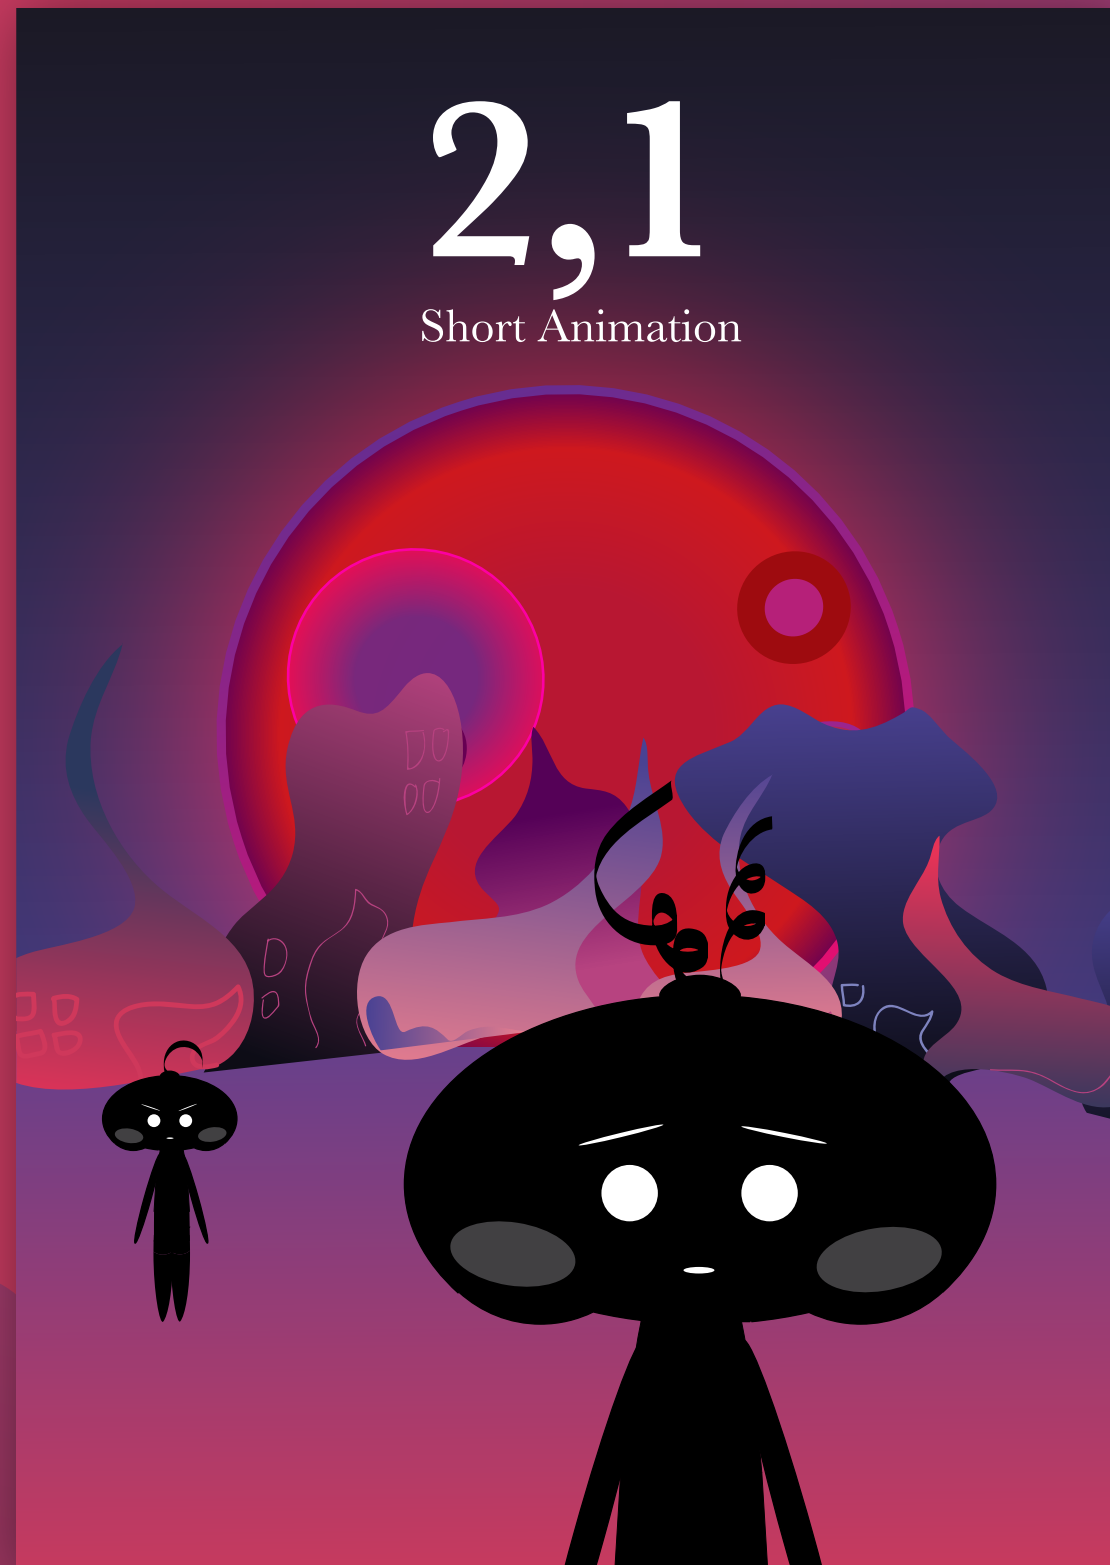

The theme is: Simple, Modern, geometric, and strong bright colour.
The target audience :
Since it going to display in the college of art and design, the target audience is the university students and instructors in general and design students and instructors in particular.

Far away, in a fantazy land everyone had one hair!
But suddenly from nowhere someone with two hairs appear !..
Everyone was shocked, and they tryed to cut his hair.

"The Red Moon "
- as the fantasy stories, when the red moon rise
everyone become Skeletons -
(they look the same from inside)
That's what the one hair guy saw.......

الأغر A film was done by a group of PNU students for the Arabic language national day.
I did shoot the ink scenes, and did all the montage.
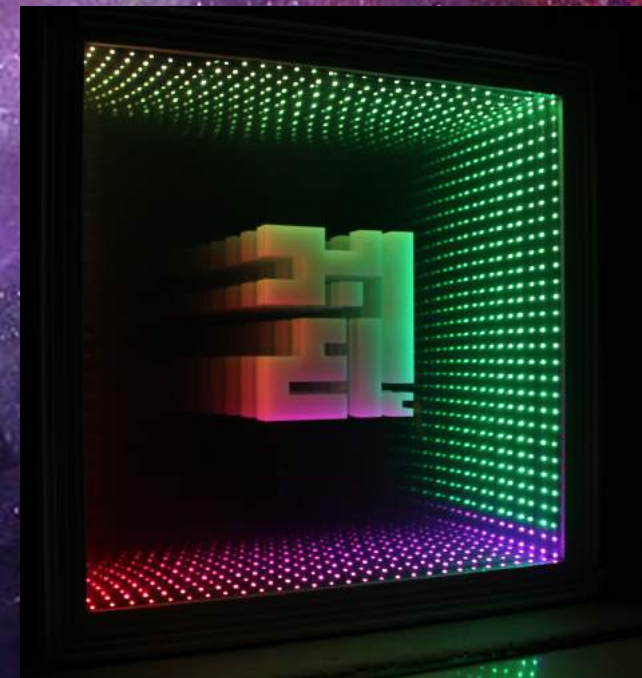

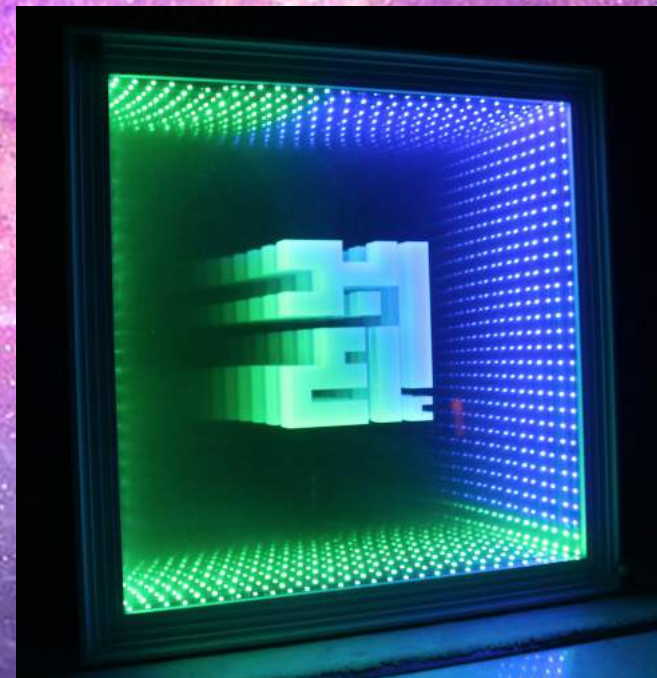

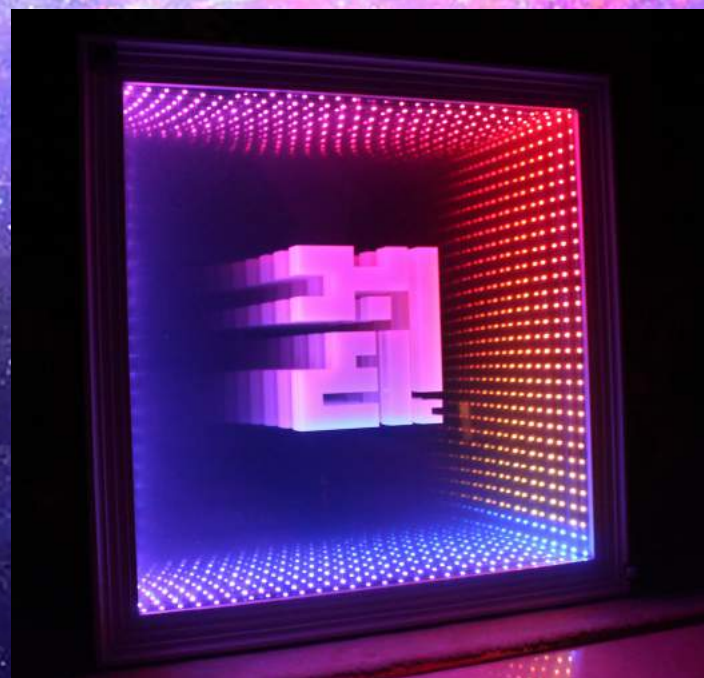

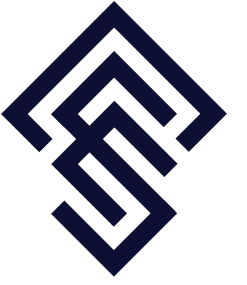

WORMHOLE

BY SAFANAH ALHUMAID

Wormhole is an interactive project, that required using microcontroller and programing (Arduino). the concept is making an interactive signage that react with people on exhibitions and show case, more clearly it's an artistic and futuristic mirror, that sense the motion when people pass near it.
