Quint Studer is a businessman, a visionary, an entrepreneur, and a mentor to many. He has given his life to designing the building blocks for people and organizations that guide them to achieving and sustaining high performance.

He came to Pensacola in 1996 as president of Baptist Hospital. In 2000, Quint and Rishy started the Studer Group. In 2016 he left Studer Group to be a full-time community volunteer and head of the Studer Community Institute, a nonprofit, research-based entity started in 2014 with the goal of improving the quality of life in the community. SCI’s efforts focus on improving education and economic development through three tracks: Research and advocacy in early childhood education, leadership training and employee development for small and medium-sized businesses, and increasing civic knowledge and engagement.

Quint has also authored seven leadership-based books including ones that have landed on both the Wall Street Journal and Business Week’s bestsellers list. He writes a weekly employee development column that runs each Sunday in the Pensacola News Journal. He is currently writing a new book, Building a Vibrant Community.

Quint says he has a human responsibility to act and to do so with a sense of urgency and always connect his actions back to purpose.

BRACE is an active coalition of more than 500 partners working to make our community disaster resilient. We would love to stay in touch. Stay connected by following us on Facebook and Twitter, or signing up for our newsletter!
