Colby Development, LLC Announces the addition of Joseph McAdams as Business Development Manager.

(Buffalo, NY – September 27, 2018) – Joseph R. Stanek, Managing Broker of Colby Development, LLC. is pleased to announce that Joseph McAdams is joining the company in the position of Business Development Manager of the full-service commercial Real Estate Development Company headquartered in Buffalo, New York.

Mr. McAdams brings a lifelong career in Information Technology to the Colby Development team. Specializing in commercial wiring and building IT infrastructure. He is adept at site inspections and recommendations for new and existing buildings. He works with architects and engineers to optimize network and communications infrastructure.

His knowledge of current power load, networking, and secure telecommunications as well as forthcoming expansion requirements attracts clients that are migrating to Buffalo and bringing with them technological and biomedical power-driven jobs.

Joseph enjoys staying involved in his community and has designed numerous websites for non-profit organizations. He is the acting Chairman of the “Teach Me to Fish” program – the largest educational fishing clinic in Western New York for kids 15 and under – hosted by the Erie County Federation of Sportsmen. (www.ecfsc.org). He is an instructor for the Private Industry Council for career re-education and training.

Mr. McAdams holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration / Finance, and he received his Real Estate Agent license in 2016. He currently resides in Lancaster, NY

Joseph’s IT background and high-power skills are just the kind of spark we are looking for on the Colby Development Team.
