Fourth Sunday of Advent
Cuarto Domingo de Adviento

A Christmas Tale

The wife of a poor merchant died, leaving him with five children, ranging in age from six to fifteen. The older children assumed many of the household chores — cooking, cleaning and helping the younger children. When the merchant came home at night, he always brought a bag of groceries, food for the next day. After he set the bag on the table, he hugged each child. Before they ate, the father read from the Scriptures, and the family prayed. Many nights before bed, the children begged their father to sing with them. He frequently played his guitar and sang quiet folk tunes.

The first Christmas after his wife died, the merchant said to his children, "This year there is insufficient money to buy presents in the store. Instead, we will all draw names, and you will make a present for one of your brothers or sisters. My gift to you will be a fine Christmas meal and a special song that I am writing. We will learn it in the weeks before Christmas and sing it in church on Christmas Eve." True to his word, the father wrote a beautiful song of joy for the children, and began to teach it to them three weeks before the Nativity. The children loved the song so much, they sang it with great gusto and volume. It so happened that a rich man who hated Christmas and hated music even more, lived above the family. Night after night, he listened to the children singing the new Christmas song. It irritated him so much that he developed a plan to silence the singing. Several days before Christmas, he knocked on the door. "I have come to make you an offer," he said to the father who listened carefully with his children standing behind him. "I'll give you 100 gold coins if you promise not to sing for three months." The father looked at his children. He said, "That is more money than I can make in two years. We will be able to buy presents for everyone in the entire family." The children cheered as the father accepted the bag of money and the rich man's terms.

That night, they began to plan silently how they would spend the money. Over the next few evenings, they ate, then sat quietly reading and thinking. On the fourth night, however, one of the children said, "I would rather have music than any stupid present. This silence isn't worth it." One by one the children agreed. So the father walked into the bedroom and retrieved the sack of money. He climbed the flight of stairs to return the bag to its owner. He told the man, "We have discovered that there is something more important than money. I am sorry that our singing irritates you, but it fills us with joy. Our family cannot imagine Christmas, or life itself, without music. When singing, we celebrate the best news that has ever been given to poor people, that God so loved the world that He became one of us, living as a human being."

When the merchant rejoined his children, he said, "We will learn to sing with greater feeling and less volume. In our joy, we don't want to irritate our neighbor. What do you say to that?" The oldest child spoke for all, saying, "We say, 'Let the music begin.'" The merchant and his children did not have much in a material sense, but they had music, which was all they needed. In essence, they had hope. Today, our Advent Journey has reached its goal; we celebrate the incarnation, God becoming human in Jesus Christ. It is a day of great festival joy, for Jesus's arrival in our world provides a sense of hope that something greater, something permanent is possible. Jesus, the Light of the world, has come to dispel the darkness in our personal lives and that of our world.

Blessed Christmas, Fr. Jim

FELIZ NAVIDAD

Muy queridos hermanos y hermnas, los saludo con gran alegría en esta Navidad, vive goza, canta, baila, sonríe, brinca, salta, alégrate.

Porque la navidad es vivir el nacimiento de Cristo nuestro Señor. Cuanto nos tiene el Padre Celestial dándonos a Jesus su hijo Divino, que hoy nace para nosotros el nacimiento de Cristo debe ser de esperanza, alegría y gozo, y como dice el evangelio "No teman" hermanos y hermanas con la presencia de Jesus. No tengamos miedo a nada, Cristo vino al mundo, Cristo nació para que con su nacimiento tengamos alegría y podamos decir: no tenemos miedo hoy ha nacido en nuestros corazones, Cristo el salvador del mundo.

Navidad es: perdón, alegría, paz, armonia, fraternidad, reconciliación, Misericordia, hermandad, gozo. Navidad es tiempo de vivir plenamente el amor a Dios nuestro Salvador y navidad es amar al prójimo.

Disfrutemos a nuestros seres queridos, cercanos y lejanos reconciliémonos con todos dejemos que Cristo nazca en cada Corazon. Feliz nacimiento de Cristo Nuestro Señor y digamos no tenemos miedo hoy ha nacido Cristo en nuetros corazones.

Que esta navidad recibas abundantes bendiciones espirituales y materiales. De un solo cabal valla pues bichos, cipotes, patojos.
