The Church Dare Not Have an Influence

In his penetrating book, The First Circle, Alexander Solzhenitsyn, the famous Russian author who defected to America, makes an interesting observation about how the Russian authorities handle the church. He writes: "No one stops them ringing their bells; they can break communion bread anyway they please. They can have their processions with the cross. But the church was allowed to go through the motions; it could have a presence, but it dare not have an influence.

What bothered the scribes was not that Jesus prayed and preached. It was the fact that his prayers and his sermons were moving the people to action. I wonder if the church still has that concept of authority. So often our problem is not that we do not have authority, it is that we do not use the authority that we have. It is time that we quit defining the problems of the world and start applying the power of the church to the problems.

We have been given authority by God, through Jesus Christ, to heal, to proclaim, to change, to bring redemption, and to expel. We are under an imperative from God and we need not fear either principalities or death for Christ has been given all authority over heaven and earth. Now we need to start applying that authority.

Now the ball is in our courts. For if the claims of Jesus' authority are true, then that will require a response from you and me. In Shakespeare's play, King Lear, the Earl of Kent offers his services to the King. He wants, he says, to "serve him truly that will put me in trust, to love him that is honesty; to converse with him who is wise, to fear judgment."

When the King asks the Earl "Dost thou know me, fellow?" the Earl replies, "No sir; but thou has the countenance for which I would fain call you master." "What is that countenance?" the King inquires. The response comes in one word: "Authority."

That, in a literary way, is what we come to do as Christians. To serve him, to love him, to converse with him, and to trust him. It may be a long time before you fully understand what the Gospel is all about. Maybe you never will. But all that is necessary is that we put our whole faith in this new teacher who

Si la Oración no se hace con Valentía
no es Cristiana
(Papa Francisco)

En la matutina Misa en la Casa Santa Marta, el Papa Francisco habló este viernes de la importancia de orar bien y subrayó que “si la oración no es valiente no es cristiana”.

Francisco recordó los relatos evangélicos de la curación de un leproso y de un parálítico en la que ambos rezan con valentía. “Siempre, cuando nos acercamos al Señor para pedir algo, se debe partir de la fe y hacerlo en la fe: ‘Yo tengo fe en que tú puedes sanarme, yo creo que tú puedes hacer esto’”, dijo en la homilía.

El Papa pidió entonces no rezar como “papagayos” y sin “interés” en lo que se pide, sino pedir al Señor que “nos ayude en nuestra poca fe” porque “la voluntad hace encontrar una solución” y hace “ir más allá de las dificultades”.

“Valentía para acercarse al Señor cuando hay problemas. Muchas veces se requiere paciencia y saber esperar los tiempos, pero no desfallecer, ir siempre adelante. Pero si con fe me acerco al Señor y digo: ‘Si tú quieres, puedes darme esta gracia’, y después como quizás esa gracia no ha llegado me olvido...”.

Francisco puso de ejemplo a la madre de San Agustín, Santa Mónica, que “lloró tanto” por la conversión de su hijo. Tuvo “valentía para desafiar al Señor”, para “ponerse en juego”.

“La oración cristiana nace de la fe en Jesús y va siempre con la fe más allá de las dificultades. Una frase para llevarla hoy en nuestro corazón que nos ayudará es la de nuestro padre Abraham, al cual le fue prometida la herencia, es decir, tener un hijo a los 100 años”.

“Dice el apóstol Pablo: ‘Creed’ y con esto fue justificado. La fe ‘se puso en camino’: fe y hacer todo para llegar a esa gracia que estoy pidiendo. El Señor nos ha dicho: ‘Pedid y se os dará’. Tomemos esta Palabra y tengamos confianza, pero siempre con fe, y poniéndola en juego”, dijo el Papa

“Este es el coraje que tiene la oración cristiana. Si una oración no es valiente no es cristiana”, repitió de Nuevo.

Con gratitud, Padre. Ubaldo
