WELL DONE 16 BRAVO!

Six interns from the Western Cape Department of Community Safety's Chrysalis Academy recently graduated from a 12-month internship programme at Metrorail. We captured their proud moment. Mandisa Nduli Metrorail recently hosted a graduation ceremony for six interns from the Department of Community Safety's Chrysalis Academy.

Six female interns from the Chrysalis Academy's 16 Bravo team proudly stepped up to the platform as they received their certificates after completing their year-long internship at Metrorail.

The internship programme, which is a collaboration between Metrorail and the Western Cape Department of Safety, was launched in 2016. It provides an enabling environment for skills development by equipping the interns to enter the job market.

"The programme provides the interns with the opportunity to demonstrate their skills, receive mentorship and a rare opportunity to service the diverse community of the Western Cape," says George Kiewiets, Metrorail's special projects manager in Area South.

MAKING IMPACT

The young women's graduation was supported by several of Metrorail's stakeholders, including the Muizenberg Improvement District, Department of Community Safety, Western Province Rugby, Wynberg Committee and representatives from Chrysalis Academy.

During their 12-month stint at Metrorail, they were involved mostly in customer service enhancements projects. "The interns made a valuable contribution, particularly to our fare revenue-collection strategy," says George, who mentored the students.

2018 INTAKE:

WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW

The internship programme is open to applicants between 18 and 25 years. The intake of interns is primarily from the Chrysalis Academy. Interested individuals are invited to apply through the Chrysalis Academy website chrysalisacademy.org.za or email info@chrysalisacademy.org.za. Alternatively, you may call 021 712 1023.

HAVE YOUR SAY

We caught up with two of the six graduates who share their experiences during their internship.

Busisiwe Gongotha, 23

"Firstly, I want to thank Mr Kiewiets for introducing the company to me. I learnt a lot because I didn't know anything about trains. I was lucky to be part of the company. It was not easy but thanks to Mr Kiewiets and my sisters in my 16 Bravo team, I conquered everything that came my way. I really enjoyed it because we got a chance to meet some of the stakeholders. On behalf of my team, we really thank Mr Kiewiets and Metrorail."

Siziphiwe Ntaka, 26

"I had a good experience. I learnt a lot of different things throughout the programme and it was a good platform. I am so proud to be part of it."

SAFETY

CRIMINALS BROUGHT TO BOOK

The continued efforts of Metrorail's protection officers are not in vain. The officers have made seven arrests since Friday, 10 November 2017 and continue to strive towards creating a safer train environment for all. Jaye-Dee Jansen

Metrorail protection officers have made seven arrests relating to cable theft and onboard robberies since 10 November. The officers apprehended two suspects for the possession of stolen goods in the Woltemade yard. They were caught loading their loot of stolen rail components into their vehicle.

A few hours later, two men from Strand were caught during an onboard robbery between Koeberg and Salt River Stations. Later that day, two Elsies River men were discovered in the act of stripping wiring from a carriage travelling between Woodstock and Cape Town. The suspects were handed to the Pinelands and Cape Town Central Police stations for further processing.

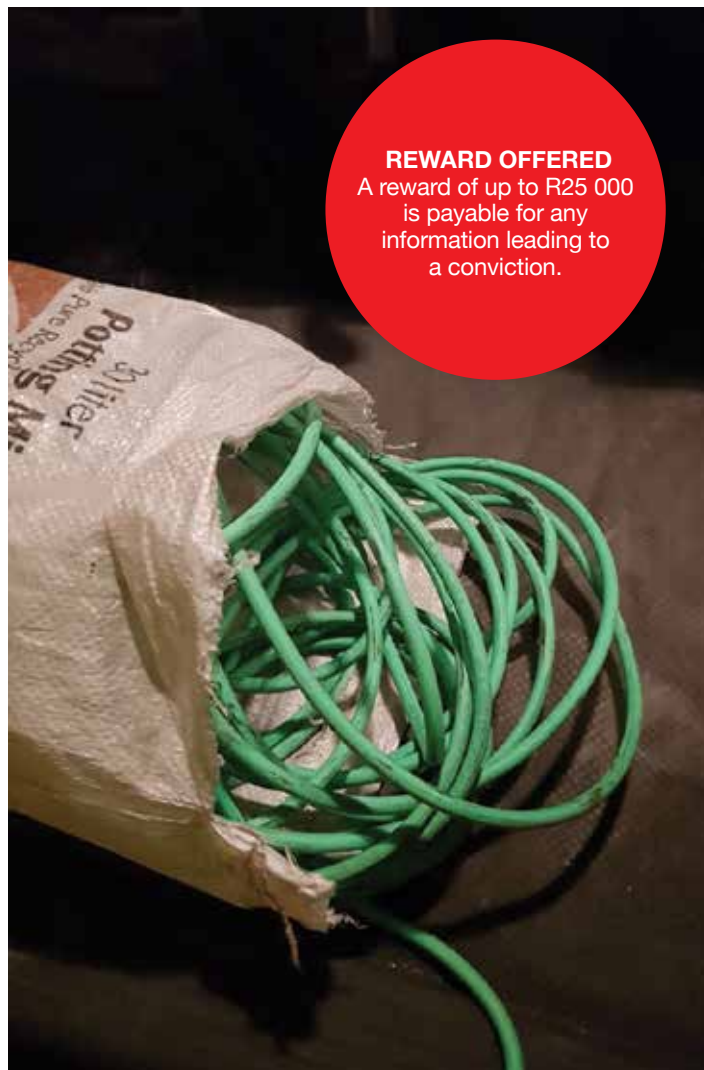

On Saturday, 11 November 2017, a 30-year-old man was caught red-handed stealing underground cables. Four metres each of 61-core and 27-core cabling were confiscated and the suspect was handed to the Manenberg Police to be charged under the Criminal Matters Amendment Act (CMAA).

A JOB WELL DONE!

Metrorail regional manager Richard Walker has commended the protection officers' efforts in minimising crime.

"The encouraging trend of frequent arrests and PRASA's insistence that theft of state assets be prosecuted in terms of the CMAA has contributed to longer jail sentences of cable thieves," says Richard.

He has applauded the teams for their vigilance and said they will continue to focus on arresting suspects. The regional manager also calls on members of the public to assist by reporting criminal activity in the rail environment.

METRO MATTERS

Metrorail technicians continued with occupations between Salt River and Woodstock stations last weekend, as part of a resignalling project.

LINE CLOSURES IN AREA NORTH AND SOUTH

Metrorail technicians will continue with remedial work on the Southern Line this weekend, which will result in service disruptions between Retreat and Simon's Town. There will also be maintenance work in Area North. Mandisa Nduli

Metrorail's train service between Retreat and Simon's Town will be interrupted from 6am on 25 November until midnight on 26 November due to maintenance work being done in the area.

All trains from Cape Town to Simon's Town will terminate at Retreat Station and a bus service will operate between the two stations during this time.

The work concludes the contract to restore Metrorail's automated signalling and level crossing protection equipment between Retreat and Simon's Town that was destroyed on 29 January this year.

REMEDIAL WORK

Richard Walker, Metrorail's regional manager and resident of the Deep South, says it is a relief to finally restore services between Retreat and Simon's Town.

"The aftermath of one inconsiderate truck driver's actions inconvenienced thousands of commuters for 11 months.

"The remedial work was unprecedented, procurement was protracted and the project required special funding, all of which contributed to repairs taking much longer than originally anticipated. I commend the teams for their tenacity and sincerely thank our customers for their patience during this time," says Richard.

AREA NORTH

Technicians will also be working on the Northern Line from 6am on 25 November until midnight on 26 November. Due to the occupation, the normal scheduled Monte Vista service will be cancelled and all other Northern Line trains will operate via Monte Vista.

A train shuttle will operate between Salt River and Bellville in both directions at 40 minute intervals.

Northern Line trains will also be cancelled between Cape Town and Salt River. Commuters travelling from Area North should make use of the Monte Vista, Central and Cape Flats lines to travel between Cape Town and Salt River.

SAVE THE DATE

Occupations will occur between Salt River and Woodstock stations from 2 to 3 December and on 10 December.

A technician works on the railway line between Salt River and Woodstock, where efforts are underway to install new crossover points to increase flexibility on the rail network.

SAFETY FIRST IN AREA CENTRAL

Metrorail and its stakeholders are intensifying their efforts to safeguard commuters this festive season.

Jaye-Dee Jansen

The rail operator was joined by the Rail Safety Regulator and the Rapid Rail Police Unit at recent safety campaigns at Bonthuvel and Mitchells Plain stations. The campaigns were aimed at educating commuters about their personal safety around trains, especially during the upcoming festive season. Bonthuvel and Mitchells Plain are key stations on the Central Line.

RAISING AWARENESS

Metrorail employees interacted with commuters, spreading the message of personal safety by distributing pamphlets and informing rail users about critical safety precautions.

Commuters were advised to keep their valuables out of sight while travelling on a train or waiting at a station. They were cautioned against sitting in carriages with very few travellers and advised to be aware of their surroundings at all times.

Commuters were also advised to be alert when boarding a train or disembarking, and to always use a designated bridge or subway to cross the railway line.

TAKING OWNERSHIP

Both campaigns included exhibitions of vandalised rail components to help commuters easily identify stolen goods.

"The response from the communities was very positive as they supported us during the campaign," says Zino Mihi, Metrorail's corporate affairs manager. "They appreciated receiving information about how to improve their personal safety and went so far as to involve their respective neighbourhood watch teams."

Metrorail and its stakeholders will continue to run safety campaigns during the upcoming festive season. Look out for more details in upcoming issues of Myline.

The 16 Days Campaign: Why it matters

Besides the summer holidays and a well-deserved break from school and work, the end of the year is also a time when we confront a serious issue we are faced with in our communities – violence against women and children. The 16 Days of Activism for No Violence Against Women and Children is a global campaign to remind the world of the many women and children whose lives have been lost and affected through violence, and to give all of us a chance to join the fight against gender-based violence.

This campaign also tells the world that we as a country stand against violence, and that you are not alone if it has happened to you.

The theme for this year's campaign: "Count me in: together moving a non-violent South Africa forward," reminds us that it everyone's duty to make South Africa safe for all who live in it.

So...how can you help?

Making South Africa safe starts by you speaking out against gender-based violence. Use your voice in your community, your school or tertiary institution, and on social media. Give your time to an event, community organisation, NGO, or church group which supports survivors of violence. Every hour helps.

Support those in need if they are ready to reach out. If you or someone you know has experienced gender-based violence, you can get help!

Leave your comment or question on the "Ask an Expert page on B-Wise, and our experts will get back to you in 48 hours.

If you need help NOW, you can call these toll-free numbers:

Childline: 0800 55 555
