Chaos Guitars gets Approval from Murphy the Giraffe
Two giraffes plus one guitar equals total Chaos at the zoo

Fogelsville, P.A.: Chaos Guitars released the first official photos today of the custom guitar they built for the Lehigh Valley Zoo. The very first members of the zoo to see and approve the work were Murphy and Tatu who were the inspiration for the guitar build. Murphy and Tatu are the Lehigh Valley Zoo's two giraffes and they seem to approve of the work completed on the guitar by Chaos Guitars.

“As a custom guitar shop, we don't get to work on a project involving animals very often so the chance to get up close with these beautiful animals is just an incredible experience.” said Dave Kite, the Founder and Creator of Chaos Guitars. “The zoo has always been a special place for my kids and myself to spend time and so this was a great build for Chaos Guitars to do and who knows maybe it will lead to other ‘theme’ builds for us to do for other businesses.”

About Chaos Guitars: Chaos Guitars is a custom guitar shop located in Fogelsville, P.A.
