

YOUR NEIGHBOURS LOVE AVIVE™

It looks better, tastes better; my clothes are cleaner; even the coffee tastes like it should.

A resident in Killaloe, Ontario, the first community in North America to enjoy AVIVE™ water as their municipally treated water.

Our daughter was living with a very serious water problem for over a year and a half. It was absolutely awful. There was this terrible smell throughout the entire house and she didn't even want to use the shower. The water actually turned her jewelry black. And then the AVIVE™ people arrived and fixed it in 48 hours! It's great water now. We couldn't be more pleased and we thank you very much for your help and advice.

Major-General Lewis MacKenzie, after the installation of his new AVIVE™ System.

AVIVE™ is one of the most significant innovations in municipal drinking water since the introduction of chlorine as a primary disinfectant more than a century ago... The AVIVE™ technology represents a new viable disinfection alternative for communities that are grappling with the potentially adverse health implications associated with trihalomethanes and other chlorine-related by-products.

Andy Valickis, P.Eng., Ontario Clean Water Agency's Director of Engineering Services.

I can't praise AVIVE™ enough! No more odors from my well, no more yellow water for showering. My laundry's finally white again. With AVIVE™ I don't have to buy 18 L jugs for cooking and drinking, I just turn on the tap.

Tracy Lalonde, after returning to school and changing her career path, now works for SanEcoTec Ltd. She never imagined she'd be so fulfilled in her work.

I've lived here 50 years from boy to man, and never knew what tea tasted like. This is amazing.

A resident in Sunnyside, Newfoundland, a community under a boil-water advisory until their municipal water was treated with AVIVE™

We thought we tried everything, then we finally installed an AVIVE™ Healthy Water System. It's the best! We are delighted with the quality of our water – and so are our plants and animals!

Mary from Manotick, Ontario, has had her AVIVE™ system for the past four years.

From first being introduced to SanEcoTec and their AVIVE™ process, I had a sense from our growers this was something to take seriously. SanEcoTec are water treatment experts and this knowledge and experience is something our industry is in need of. Anyone can offer the newest mousetrap but a holistic systems approach means: checkpoints throughout the process, engineering expertise, implementation follow thru, after sales support and verification; these are the factors that give me confidence that we made the right choice.

Andrew Hendriks Jr. of Hendriks Greenhouses on why Hendriks chose AVIVE™.
