

AVIATION DAY 2018

presented by Spartan College and United Air Lines

Friday, September 28, 2018
10am - 2pm

United Air Lines Tech Ops Facility
27300 E 98th Ave., Denver, CO 80249

The outlook for careers in aviation is strong. Boeing forecasts a demand for more than 235,000 new commercial airline pilots and maintenance technicians by 2036*.

Learn about various STEM related career opportunities in aviation such as:

- Mechanics
- Engineers
- Operations
- Air Traffic Control
- Pilots
- Electronics
- Flight Attendants
- UAVs

Current confirmed participation from:

- Ball Aerospace
- CDOT Aeronautics Board
- Delta Air Lines
- Endeavor Air
- Federal Aviation Administration (FAA)
- Frontier Airlines
- Lockheed Martin
- Metropolitan State University
- Sierra Nevada Corporation
- Skywest Airlines
- Southwest Airlines
- United Airlines
- US Air Force Academy
- US Army/Air National Guard

You can interact with government representatives, view various aircraft, speak with schools and companies, plus so much more! Refreshments will be provided.

For more information or to RSVP, contact Nick Brown at 303-410-2407 or nicholas.brown@spartan.edu.

