GENE MAKO WINS TITLE

*Trojan Player Overpowers
Bobby Riggs in Finals of Tournament*

Gene Mako, S.C.'s husky terror who holds the national intercollegiate singles title, added the Southern California invitational crown to his list yesterday when he overwhelmed young Bobby Riggs, 6-3, 6-0; in the final round at the Bath and Tennis Club in Cheviot Hills.

The Trojan flash, staying in the back-court during the opening can-to, warmed to his task in the second set to all but sweep his youthful opponent off the court.

WINS DOUBLES

Mako made it something of a field day later when he paired with Frank Shields, America's No. 1 ranking star, to annex the doubles trophy from Dr. Baartosh and Jack Tidball, former Bruin ace.

The match, however, was determinted by the flip of a coin. Bartosh and Tidball annexed the opening set, 6-4, but were drubbed at love in the second, after which they battled their highly touted foes to a 6-6 draw in the deciding set. With a heavy fog rolling in, Tournament Manager Dick Skeen flipped a coin to decide the victor.

DR. BARTOSH WINS

Dr. Esther Bartosh won the women's singles title, defeating Dorothy Bundy, 6-2, 6-3, while Marjorie Lauderbach took the third and deciding set from May Doeg in the girl's final, 6-2. The pair split two sets a couple of weeks ago. Cups were presented the winners after the final match.

Snow Imported to Hollywood for Ski Jump

Hollywood is scheduled to get its first snowfall today, but it will be man-made. More than 10,000 feet of snow will be trucked into the Hollywood Bowl for the Hollywood Ski Club's first annual jumping championship over a 600-foot runway.

The snow will be stored in a refrigerating shed and used as needed on this spectacular jump. First tests are planned on Wednesday. Work is complete on the fifty-foot take-off constructed on top of a hill adjacent to the bowl. Jumpers soar down into the canyon and come to a halt against an artificial snow-bank.

Five sterling performers of the Viking Ski Club entered the competition yesterday. They were Olaf Tellefsen, ex-California State champion; Ludwig Hasher, former German star; "Nip" Whitman, Fred Dorge and "Gil" Gilbertson.
