The Santa Cruz police department had a seaisick inspector for a time Sunday afternoon as Inspector Fred Rountree "rocked and rolled" on Trub Ghio's fishing boat way out in Monterey bay.

"Never again," was Rountree's only comment Monday morning.

Browns Continue Win Streak To Keep Lead As They Begin All Important Road Trip; Cards Win

By Glen Perkins
United Press Staff Correspondent
New York, Aug. 7 (AP)—The St. Louis Browns headed east Monday to begin their last, and certainly most important, intersection trip of the campaign with a six and a half game lead over the Boston Red Sox and riding the crest of an eight game winning streak, the only streak of any consequence to survive week-end play.

In the National League the Pittsburgh Pirates halted the 11 game winning streak of the Chicago Cubs and the Philadelphia Phillies broke their losing streak at 12 games by winning the second game of a double-header from the New York Giants.

The coming road trip, it was generally conceded, will make or break the Browns in their quest for their first American league pennant. If the Missourians can re-enter St. Louis on Sept. 1 with half the margin they have now the pennant should be theirs.

Numerologists might have made something of yesterday's twin bill against Cleveland. The figure six certainly proved lucky for the Browns and they won, 9-6 and 6-4 with six run rallies in the sixth innings of each game and increased their league lead to six and a half games—their longest of the year.

Second Baseman Ray Mack, a usually reliable performer for the Tribe who made three errors in Saturday night's game, booted two more in the opener to deprive the Indians of any chance of victory. Denny Galehouse was credited with the decision and Jim Bagby was the loser. Nelson Potter, making his first start since he was suspended for alleged use of a spit ball, was the nightcap winner.

Addresses by three experts in the fish and game field will keynote the Tuesday night dinner meeting of the Santa Cruz Rod and Gun club at the Miramar fish grotto on the municipal wharf.

Speakers will be George Miller, executive secretary of the state fish and game commission; Dr. R. Van Cleve of the fish and game commission's fish bureau, and Ben Glading, who is in charge of the state quail propagation program.

A discussion of the quail propagation program is planned along with discussions of other fish and game problems. To attend the dinner one must purchase a one-dollar ticket. These can be obtained from any of the following: Harold Richey, president of the Rod and Gun club; State Fish and Game Warden Forrest J. McDermott; Herman Baker, Floyd Uhden or Mike Morelli.

Hosts at the banquet (which begins at 7:30 p.m.) are the commercial fishermen belonging to the club.

the Browns coming from behind after spotting the Indians a three run lead.

The Detroit Tigers moved into fourth spot in the junior circuit by winning a pair from the Chicago White Sox, 10-3 and 3-1. A 19 hit attack against starter Bill Dietrich and Ed Lopat made Stubby Overmire's sixth win, his third against Chicago, easy in the first game. Dizzy Trout recorded his 17 decision in the finale with a five hit effort.

Trout's third homer of the season gave the Tigers their first run and he doubled Pinky Higgins home with what proved the winning run in the seventh.

New York defeated Philadelphia twice, 6-1 and 1-0. Johnny Lindell homered in each game for the Yankees to spark the team offensively and his second circuit clout spoiled a four hit effort for Jess Flores.

Atley Donald won his 11th game in the curtain-raiser and Walt Dubiel although allowing nine hits, was the winner of the second.

Boston and Washington split, both coming from behind to win in the late innings. The Nats counted twice in the ninth inning of the first to gain a 3-2 edge. Jake Powell's homer tied the count and Stan Spence's double and eventual score on a squeeze bunt provided the margin. Two walks and a double by Roy Partee gave the Red Sox two runs after two were out in the eighth inning for a 3-4 decision.

The Pirates weren't fooling when they ended Chicago's winning streak by taking two games, 13-5 and 5-4. Nine runs in the seventh inning of the first clinched Preacher Roe's victory and five runs in the first three innings of the afterpiece proved enough for Nick Strincevich. The double loss moved the Cubs back into the second division, a single percentage point behind the New York Giants who split with the Phillies. Harry Feldman regained his winning stride in the first game and pitched the Giants to a 6-2 triumph, his ninth win of the season. But Philadelphia came out of its slump in the nightcap when three home runs, one each by Ted Cieslak, Melvin Shea and Coaker Triplett, proved enough of a working margin for Bill Lee's six-hitter to stand up for a 3-1 win.

The Brooklyn Dodgers had no struggle at all in "regaining" the National League's cellar by dropping two to the Boston Braves. The Braves' most difficult playing position, a 14-4 shellacking, featured by a 10 run seventh inning, largest single inning of the season. The Braves won the nightcap 8-7 and in all six Brooklyn pitchers were tagged for 34 hits in the two games, although the Dodgers did give local fans a thrill with a triple play. Jim Tobin and Nate Andrews were the winners.

SEATS TWIN WIN FOR SEALS

By United Press
Top honors for Pacific coast league pitching so far this season today were held by San Francisco Seals Southpaw Tom Seats, who hurled his team to a twin shutout victory yesterday over the Sacramento Solons, 6-0, 3-0.

Yielding eight hits in both games, five in the first and three in the second, the veteran iron man received a thunderous ovation from a near-capacity crowd of 8638 fans as he set down the Solon batting order for 16 successive innings. It was his fifth shutout in the last six starts and his 20th win of the season. The double triumph gained the Seals a 4-3 series victory.

The Los Angeles Angels, Pacific coast league leaders, eked out a 3-4 first game win and turned on their batting power to trounce the Portland Beavers 13-2 in the nightcap, giving them a 6-1 series triumph. The Hollywood Stars, in third place, scored a double victory over the San Diego Padres, 5-4 and 3-1, taking the series by four games to three, while the Seattle Rainiers took a pair from the Oakland Aacorns 3-0 and 7-6.

Games this week send Portland to San Francisco, Oakland to San Diego, Los Angeles to Sacramento and Seattle to Hollywood.

Seats retired the Solons in order nine times during both games, finding himself in trouble on only three occasions. The most serious of these occurred during the first inning of the closer when the Solons loaded the bases with one out. Clem Dreisewerd, who was credited with losing the nightcap, yielded 11, bunting eight in the first three innings.

The Angels almost lost the first game when the Beavers tied the score at two-all in the ninth and went on to add two more in the tenth. In the final half, however, the Angels loaded the bases and Eddie Fernandez walked to force in one score and Cecil Garriott singled to score two more. Ray Prim hurled the nightcap victory for the home team.

Brooks Holder's ninth inning home run broke up a four-all tie and gave the Hollywood Stars their first win of the day. Holder's circuit clout was the climax of long-distance slugging by the Stars, who scored three times in the fourth on a triple by Butch Moran, a 380-foot home run by Frank Kelleher, a triple by Buck Faucett and a single by Ken Richardson. Joe Mishasek shut out the Padres until the seventh inning of the nightcap.

The Rainiers scored their winning run in the 12-inning nightcap on an error by Bill Raymond who dropped the ball at the plate on a throw from the infield permitting Bill Matheson to score. Glenn Elliott blanked the Aacorns in the first game, scattering five hits effectively as the Rainiers jumped on Floyd Stromme for 10 safeties. The series ended in a four-all tie.

The most serious of these occurred during the first inning of the closer when the Solons loaded the bases with one out. He also said "You know what an infantryman has to do; I'm thankful to God that I am alive and well. Many times I thought I was at my end."

Adding all this to the thought he had to sleep in a fox hole that might be hit he was glad that he could be out there and do something.

Another of the wharf boys on Saipan is Achille Castagnola.

Boys Play In World Series In New York

New York, Aug. 7 (AP)—With sixteen pitchers available, Connie Mack's east all-stars were favored over Mel Ott's west team in the all-American "Boys World Series" game in the Polo grounds today, opening shot of a nationwide physical fitness campaign for youth.

Meanwhile, major league scouts foresaw relief for baseball's acute dearth of catchers in the presence of six fine receivers on the two squads, indicating a national interest among "teenagers in the diamond's most difficult playing position. The star sextet includes the west's Rich Ashburn of Spokane, Neb., and Jim Presley of Tiden, Wash., and the east's Jim Nelson, Birmingham, Ala.; Arthur Perdue, Nashville, Tenn.; John Moskal, Buffalo, N. Y.; and Pierce McWorter, Atlanta, Ga.

White Bill "Mr. Zero" Pierce of Detroit was pre-game choice to southpaw the west into submission, Connie Mack also has at his disposal such outstanding 'teen-age hurlers as George Wergul of New York, whose metropolitan all-star award included road trips with the New York Yankees; Gilbert Mills, Memphis, Tenn., tobacco-chewing, six-footer; Frank Azzarello, New Orleans southpaw; Herb Pollock, Columbus, O., curve-baller; Mason Leeper, Dallas, N. C., southpaw representing Charlotte, N. C., and Bill Herstik, Rural Ridge, Pa., southpaw as the Pittsburgh entry.

Virgil Jester, starting nominee for Mel Ott's westerners, will be backed by three double-duty pastimers in Jim Probst, Kansas City; Marvin Homan, Cheyenne, Wyo., slated to start in left field; Ervin Palica of Los Angeles and Captain Howard Raines, opening at second base.

While some major league scouts estimate the all-star game represents $250,000 worth of potential talent, and guard their professional secrets closely, the week's training session in the Polo grounds indicated special interest will be centered on Joe Fromuth, lanky Philadelphia third sacker; Leo Reoming, left-handed hitting shortstop from Lawrence, Mass.; Vic Picetti, stocky San Francisco first-baseman, and the wealth of battery hopefuls.

"TEACHING FLYING TAKES LOTS OF GROUND TRAVEL"

"Sure glad I've got a FORD!"

says E. A. ROBERT, JR.
Flight Instructor
Phoenix, Arizona

The millions of Ford cars that served their owners so well during the days of peacetime plenty, are doubly proving their mettle under rationed driving. Now these veteran cars are especially prized for the long, reliable mileage that was built into them. They stand up—and so will the Fords that will follow Victory.

"GOT TO BE ON TIME at the airport 24 miles out of town. My 1939 Ford has plenty of pep, comfort and good looks. And it's easy on gas and tires! I wouldn't trade it for any car its age I've seen!"

"4 OTHER INSTRUCTORS RIDE with me. I average 64 miles a day, including passenger pick-up. But I'm not worrying about this car lasting through the war. I've driven Fords ever since I was a kid and I know how well they stand up."

"BEFORE THE WAR I used to hunt and fish a lot. I drove this Ford over trails a mountain goat would shy away from. I've driven it hard, but given it Ford Protective Service regularly. Its reliability and economy are priceless to me now."

NEWS NOTES—In addition to the great Ford plants, there are 16 little Ford factories, scattered through Michigan. Known as village industries, they employ local workers, many being farmers who thus follow the Ford idea of "one foot on the soil and one in industry."

More than 30,000,000 Ford, Mercury and Lincoln cars—and Ford trucks—have been built.
