

We were quick to agree that we wanted "the Greene & Hinkle touch" to beautify our new home. We loved browsing through their beautiful showroom, and the decorating staff gave us so much helpful advice to start us right. The best part is that we learned it really costs less to furnish through GREENE & HINKLE, 8825 Wilshire Blvd.

One of our most exciting stops was at world-famous GRANDE MAISON DE BLANC, where dreams of your linen-trousseau really come true. Mrs. Krakeur personally helped me select my monogrammed towels, sheets and table linens and made a note of my preferences in her registry. We shopped in Beverly Hills, 339 N. Rodeo, but you'll find the same selection in Los Angeles and Pasadena.

That's that "Meat Makes the Meal" and I've learned that RALPHS is the place for meats. U.S.D.A. Choice Golden Premium. Ralphs trims before weighing and I've a choice of self-service or custom cut. Ralphs has everything in fine foods, all unconditionally guaranteed, so I'm joining five generations of brides in enjoying Ralphs "One-Stop Shopping."

Gary is impressed with my "dollar-wise" when I explained what wonderful wardrobe stretches separates can be. He liked the feminine look of the sportswear we found at LANSZ, 6150 Wilshire Blvd., so much he promised to visit their Beverly Hills and Westwood Stores with me later. P.S. (Wait till he finds out they have dresses, too!)
