Episode 13: Scrum Master

5 Questions for Consideration

1. Allison talks about diversity as a critical component to building strong teams. How diverse are the teams you work on and what are the impacts?
2. As a scrum master, Allison observes the team to see how they are interacting, how things are going and to provide ongoing feedback? If someone was going to observe you and your team, what would they see?
3. Allison shares the role of servant leadership in the agile environment. How well do you work within the servant leadership approach?
4. Allison talked about organizations using labels but not making changes in their approach. Have you seen this in your experience? What could you do to change it?
5. Allison and Alessandria discussed building trust and focusing on people as a major force in allowing the organization to pivot. What are some ways you could invest in building trust with those around you?
6. BONUS QUESTION: Allison also shared a story of challenging and organization to take on more change vs. slowing change down. What is your preferred approach?
