

FEELING QUESTIONS

What feeling(s) come up for you when working with a specific client or patient?

What took place during the session (verbal, non-verbal, etc.) that brought up the feeling(s)?

What do you think the client or patient was feeling during the session?

Do you think there are any other feelings that may have been present during the interaction?

Name some ways in which these feelings can be either beneficial or a barrier?