BROCHURE 2018

RE

Resalyn's Emporium

Resalyn's Emporium is a business I set up in 2016 to share my love of bespoke jewellery making.

I made my first pair of wedding rings for my sister in 2001. From then on I had a steady stream of family, friends & a few clients who all visited my home workshop to take part in the making of their own wedding rings.

Alongside this hobby I had a 13 year career as a Visual Merchandiser for a high street jewellery & watch retailer. Following redundancy in 2016 I knew I had to grasp the much craved for opportunity to work for myself. Another goal was to be based at home making family life easier. Happy to say I've not looked back since.

I live in Chesham with my husband, two young children & a handsome ginger kitten. I was thrilled to be able to design & make my own engagement ring & our wedding rings too. You can see them on my website.

Rosalyn's Emporium

Share the memorable experience of making your own or your partner's wedding rings.

The experience day is aimed at complete beginners. You will make your own wedding rings in my private workshop based in Chesham.

Your experience day includes:

- a personal consultation
- one-to-one tutoring
- silver sample ring to practise on & keep
- one handmade leather ring box
- photos of you making the wedding rings
- hallmarking both rings
- light refreshments
- locally sourced treats to take home

Additional costs for the materials required to make your wedding rings & any additional extras will be quoted individually.

You can also make your own bridal party gifts.

James & Lauren's finished white gold wedding rings

Precious metals available are:
9ct & 18ct Yellow, White & Rose Gold,
Palladium, Platinum & Silver.

Following a free consultation I will establish how much material you need to make your specific rings.

I only buy what I need to ensure the best possible price for you.

Additional extras include engraving, plating & stone setting. Engraving can be done by machine, hand or laser depending on what's required & your budget. Fingerprint engraving is available.

I also offer a recycling service for existing hallmarked gold jewellery. Gold & stones can be reformed & used in your new ring/s.

You can share the making experience & make gifts for your bridal party too.

See my website for more details about gifts:

Re-salyn's Emporium

Bespoke design & make service is available for anyone who wants to have a unique wedding ring experience but not make them.

I specialise in fitted wedding rings which are mostly required when you have an unusually shaped engagement ring, or want to incorporate a material or design that isn't 'standard'.

To ensure the best possible finish I occasionally outsource some areas of jewellery making such as CAD, resin modelling, casting, stone setting & engraving.

All of my suppliers are tried & tested with years of experience & recommendations. My aim is to ensure I offer you the most personal of services & with the most professional of finishes to your precious jewellery.

Bespoke means that I work to your budget, advise & source the best materials to suit you.

I love taking on new challenges so don't be afraid to ask me for something unique.

People that choose to work with me are looking for more than just monetary value in their jewellery.

My clients feedback reflects the level of service, love & care I put into my work.

*"Thank you again for a great day..
We're both still pinching ourselves at how good it was."*

"I genuinely think that you are missing out on something incredibly special if you do not go to see Rosalyn for your rings."

"I would definitely recommend Roz not just for wedding rings but for any jewellery you want to make special & have a bit of a unique touch."

"Calm, gentle & most organised, we felt confident & at ease right from the off."
