The Practical Coach This highly interactive course provides management level individuals with practical, effective and positive methods for leading and coaching employees. These tools help supervisors inspire and motivate good performers, as well as address poor performers and those who seem to be headed towards failure on the job. In addition, participants will learn how to draft effective written corrective action letters that will either motivate poor performers to improve or provide helpful evidence for unemployment claims, in the event that the employee is not successful on the job. All leaders are coaches—this course will put them at the top of their game!	Mar. 21, 2019 2:00-4:00	$25	Laura Hamblin Laura Hamblin is an Arizona-licensed attorney with more than 25 years of experience working as a corporate employment lawyer and human resources executive. She has her own employment law practice and HR consulting business.
Building an Intentional Culture We are surrounded by buzz words for work environments of the new millennium. Culture, healthy organizations, purpose and meaning, mindfulness, and so on and so on. But what does it all really mean? Building an intentional culture means putting your best foot forward, having a shared mindset, and executing through leadership starting with a set of beliefs that transcend the organization. In the time we spend together, we will discuss how the four elements of culture can help your organization for the better.	April 25, 2019 3:00 – 5:00	$25	Scott Lewis Scott Lewis is a Senior Lecturer with Northern Arizona University's Statewide Branch Campuses, and recently launched a new degree program in Interdisciplinary Studies and Strategic Leadership in Prescott Valley, Mesa and Phoenix. Prior to teaching, Scott spent several years in audit and consulting with Fortune 100 companies and continues to work with companies today building thriving cultures.
