The Practical Coach This workshop will be held in Prescott. This highly interactive course provides management level individuals with practical, effective and positive methods for leading and coaching employees. These tools help supervisors inspire and motivate good performers, as well as address poor performers and those who seem to be headed towards failure on the job. In addition, participants will learn how to draft effective written corrective action letters that will either motivate poor performers to improve or provide helpful evidence for unemployment claims, in the event that the employee is not successful on the job. All leaders are coaches—this course will put them at the top of their game!	Mar. 21, 2019 2:00-4:00	$25	Laura Hamblin Laura Hamblin is an Arizona-licensed attorney with more than 25 years of experience working as a corporate employment lawyer and human resources executive.
