July 2007

July 5: 7:00 pm

La Madeleine Restaurant

NE corner of Preston and Forrest
Dallas, TX

Yes, I know it's just after the 4th of July, but come on out anyway! Remember, next to the American Revolution, Mr. Lincoln's War is arguably the defining event in American history, and many things in our society today (right and wrong) can be traced back to it. All Americans need to learn that history.

Scheduled: a review of the book, Christ in the Camp, which details the importance of the Chaplaincy to the Confederate cause.

Be aware that our meeting host gives us this room for free, on the condition that most of our members eat there. That doesn't seem to be happening, and I don't want to have to take up a collection to cover the room. Yes, I would rather have Bar-B-Q, but our ancestors had to sacrifice as well. Please try to spend some money there so we can keep getting the room.

Come early, eat, fellowship with other members, learn your history!
