A DAY IN THE CITY

 Orpheus

Introduction

THIS IS THE STORY of a day in the life of a city. All the illustrations in this book have exactly the same view. But each one shows a different time of day, from early morning to late at night. Lots of things happen during this single day. Can you spot them all?

You can follow all the various comings and goings in the city during the course of the day. The clock at the top left-hand corner of each double page is there to tell you what time of day you've reached.

There are some people or things that appear on every page. Look out especially for the burglar, the office worker who is always at his desk, the artist and the people who make the sculpture of the whale.

Along the bottom of every scene you will see some little pictures, each with a label to tell you what they are. They can all be found somewhere in the busy scene. But where? That's your job to find them! How many can you spot?

6:00 am

Early morning

It is early morning. While most people are asleep, there are some who are out and about already. A few have still to return home after an all-night party! One or two early risers are enjoying their early-morning run. The street cleaners are at work. One poor man has been working in his office all night. Another night worker, a burglar, is just returning home from a busy night robbing people's houses.

Let's find

a sleepwalker

a burglar

roadworks

a clothes rail

a cat

some bottles

a man delivering newspapers

some traffic lights

a runner

8:00 am

Rush hour

The streets are busy with cars and buses. Everyone is on the move. Men and women travel to work while children make their way to school. Two cars have a crash on the corner, blocking the streets. Meanwhile, cleaners sweep up in the theatre and the museum. Market traders set up their stalls. The burglar is cooking his supper. His dog is curious to see what he has brought home.

Let's find

a man asleep

a cleaner vacuuming

people arguing

a man being kissed

a man reading

a phone booth

someone sneezing

a man and a dog

a bus driver

9:00 am

Starting work

The working day has begun. At school, the pupils are having their first lesson. The market, café and clothes shop are already busy. The office workers are at their desks and a rehearsal begins at the theatre. The museum staff look puzzled (can you guess why?). Outside, the traffic has snarled to a halt. The crashed cars are towed away, but some roadworks have started.

Let's find

a busker

an office worker

a motor scooter

a caveman

a teacher

a ticket booth

a news stand

an artist

a dinosaur skull

Mid-morning

It is mid-morning and the city streets are busy. People arrive to buy food and clothes at the market. A delivery of new suits arrives at the clothes shop. The museum has opened to visitors. One little boy is sure he has seen the model of a caveman move. The roadworkers have burst a water main with their tools. Everyone is showered with water! The burglar, meanwhile, gets ready to go to bed.

Let's find

a couple on bikes

a skateboarder

some balloons

an escaping bird

a burst tyre

a man cooking

a man on rollerskates

a man drinking coffee

a couple getting out of bed

1:00 pm

Lunchtime

It is lunchtime. The children dash out of school and the office workers break for a snack. The café is packed full. But the weather is taking a turn for the worse. The sky is darkening. People start putting up their umbrellas and the first raindrops fall. Suddenly a thief grabs somebody's bag in the market. There is mayhem as others give chase. Meanwhile, the burglar is fast asleep.

Let's find

a museum guide

a litter bin

some actors

a notice-board

an ice cream stand

a thief

some children eating lunch

a woman buying apples

some workmen

4:00 pm

A rainstorm

Later in the afternoon, it is raining hard. Most people run for cover or huddle under their umbrellas (a couple enjoy a dance in the downpour). School has finished for the day and the market traders pack up their stalls. The office workers have a small party. In the museum, the little boy who saw the caveman move gives a television interview. The sleeping burglar, meanwhile, is himself burgled!

Let's find

a spider

a cameraman

an umbrella

a couple dancing

an office party

a man falling over

some builders

a musician

a cleaner

7:30 pm

Evening

The rain has stopped and evening falls on the city streets. People arrive at the theatre and take their seats waiting for the performance to begin. An art class is taking place in the school. Some children are skateboarding in the empty marketplace. Now everyone has left the museum, the exhibits can move about undisturbed! The burglar wakes up to discover his loot has gone.

Let's find

an art class

a street lamp

some theatregoers

a bat

a sculpture

a man in a top hat

a collision

a man turning off the lights

a couple getting dressed

11:00 pm

Night time

It is late. The curtain has come down at the theatre and everyone is on their way home. Only people walking their dogs and a few noisy drunks remain on the streets.

The office worker falls asleep at his desk, while the sculptors in the flat above celebrate the completion of their work. One of the museum staff finally sees the moving caveman for himself! The burglar is caught red-handed by some theatregoers.

Let's find

a museum security man

a sleeping office worker

a cyclist

actors taking a bow

the burglar being caught

a singing cat

a table and chairs

a taxi

a signpost
