A DAY At A RAILWAY STATION

 Orpheus

Introduction

You can follow all the various comings and goings at the station during the course of the day. The clock at the top left-hand corner of each double page is there to tell you what time of day you've reached.

There are some people that appear on every page. Look out especially for the young couple who cannot bring themselves to part.

THIS IS THE STORY of a day in the life of a railway station. All the illustrations in this book show exactly the same view. But each one shows a different time of day, from early morning to late at night. Lots of things happen during this single day. Some of them are quite unexpected.

Along the bottom of every scene you will see some little pictures, each with a label to tell you what they are. They can all be found somewhere in the busy scene. But where? That's your job to find them! How many can you spot?

5:00 am

The day begins

It is very early in the morning. No trains arrive or depart from the station. There are very few people about—and some of them are still fast asleep! Cleaners sweep up last night's litter. Then they mop the floors. Even a train gets a morning scrub. A young couple arrive at the station. One of them is leaving on a long journey.

Let's find

Rush hour

Rush hour begins. People crowd into the railway station. They are all anxious to get to work on time. Two taxis crash into one another outside the station. Long queues form at the ticket office, including a scout troop going on an outing. A train arrives and everyone hurries to get on. What a crush!

The couple sit in the café-bar.

A busy morning

The rush hour is over, but the station is still busy. Some schoolchildren are going on a trip. They wait in a queue while their teacher buys tickets. A group of actors performs a play for waiting passengers. Some decorators arrive to paint the walls of the station entrance. Meanwhile, the young couple bid each other a fond goodbye ...

Let's find

some backpackers

a ticket machine

a school party

the driver running late

an actor

some glasses

a man reading a newspaper

some gulls

a waiter clearing tables

1:00 pm

Quick, fire!

Fire! The timetable board has gone up in flames. The alarm rings out and very soon firefighters arrive on the scene. While people watch, they quickly put out the fire with their hoses. The couple are back together again. The young man decided not to leave after all. No one spots a thief marching off with his girlfriend's bag.

Let's find

a man eating a sandwich

a tool box

a firefighter

a woman with a video camera

a painter

an engineer

newspapers for sale

a drill

a toy train

A steam train

A football team has just arrived. While they wait for their train, the players can't resist having a quick game! Members of an orchestra also gather in the station. Some of them decide to join in the fun and start playing their instruments. While all this is going on, an ancient steam engine chugs into the station.

Let's find

a goalie

a woman buying a gift

a can of paint being knocked over

a minibus

a musician

some people dancing

a pickpocket

a man putting up timetables

Returning home

Later that afternoon, another rush hour begins. People return home by train from work. Queues form at the ticket office. One man has put money into the ticket machine, but it has failed to provide him with a ticket. Meanwhile, the couple have reported the thieves. A security man marches them off to the police station.

Let's find

a baby in a pushchair

some cats

a man playing an accordion

a water gun

a drummer

a bartender

a sleeping man

some books

a man with a guitar

7:30 pm

Evening

Evening falls. While a high-speed express train hurtles through the station, another train brings the party of young children safely home from their day trip. Only hours after the decorators have finished painting, some graffiti artists are hard at work on the station walls. Meanwhile, the young couple get ready to say goodbye once more.

Let's find

a man dancing

a teddy bear

a man dressed as a cowboy

a dog

a chauffeur

some children with balloon animals
