BROKER'S CORNER - With the extension of the 4-lane portion of Hwy 180 nearing completion, more and more attention is being focused on Squaw Valley and our local mountain area as an attractive location to live in and commute to work. This is a great time for sellers contemplating putting their property on the market. Property inventories are very low which is putting upward pressure on prices. This is a good time to sell. If you are a seller and would like to know what your current market value is, give me a call. With more than 40 years of experience here in the hills, I can safely say that I am the local expert.
