Brief History of the Club

The Nambour Lapidary Club was established in March 1965, following a meeting in the Cane Growers Building in Lowe Street.

A Building in Anne Street was the Home of the Club for some 9 years

Members were enthusiastic and started with a trip to Wappa falls to look for stones to cut and polish.

The Club had 2 further moves before securing the current site in the Nambour Showgrounds in June 1975.

The Nambour Council were generous by providing the Building at an affordable rent.

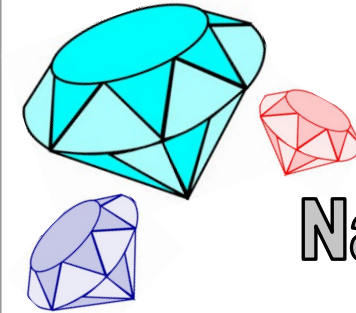

A long awaited extension to the club was completed in 2010

Many other organisations have provided grants to help buy the equipment.

Over the years many members have been exceptional in providing their time and resources to make the Club the success it is today.
