

WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE PASHI'S NEWS

Dear friends

Quite a long time since I last wrote my news for you. Many things have happened ever since. I'll try to put a few in pictorial form.

1. The Archbishop of Canterbury's visit the South Sudanese in my place in Moyo

2. My graduation in MA in Organizational Leadership and Management (MAOL)

3. Another pit latrine on my compound collapses again due to heavy rainfall.

Yes indeed, amidst all bad things, good comes out of them as well. We are here with our South Sudanese Refugees' friends and sharing all things together. A fortnight ago I was in one of the biggest camp in Adjumani praying with hundreds of S. Sudanese Anglican communion, but the shelter was so small and I talked to the desk officer Office of the Prime minister about it. One of the South Sudanese Bishop, my friend, Rt. Rev. Anthony Pogo was given a special appointment by the Arch Bishop of Canterbury as an adviser on African Affairs and so, in July he brought the Archbishop of Canterbury to Moyo and together we visited a refugee camp. David's contract ended as volunteer health worker with our Church health centre and Global Link has sent Benson as his replacement and our Diocesan health coordinator Heather Sharland brought a young nurse called Comfort to the in-charge of our health centre.

I lost my uncle Noah, the man who brought me up in June this year and the funeral was attended by thousands of people as if it were a celebration. Praises were sung and preaching's were done for 3 nights and 3 days before the burial and many people came to the Lord.

Uganda Christian University (UCU) has opened a study centre for Friday evenings and Saturday classes for working class at my home Church of St. Luke in Adjumani. Many people have enrolled and I have applied to be a part time lecturer, not yet got the job.

The Bible translation work is moving on very well and steadily. We have completed the books of Genesis, Luke, and Mark and I have gone halfway through with the book of Exodus, Rev. Fr. Richard Idrifua is almost completing Leviticus as it has fewer chapters and Rokani Charles is on Numbers, thereafter we shall have joint checks, community reviewers checks, consultants check before printing out each book for the community to read through.

I played football yesterday during the independence cup as a curtain raiser, as part of the Moyo District celebrations of Uganda's Independence day 9th October (1960). One sad news is the fatal accident our friends and co-workers; the shoemaker's daughter Lelia Shoemaker met last month as she was playing with 10 eleven year old girls. This happened back home in America when she was about to visit us here in Moyo and work with the youth for some time. She fell off 50 meters and broke 11 ribs and 2 lumber vertebrates. It was a miracle that she was alive; the doctors say she may not walk again, we are all saddened by the accident. Pray for the shoemakers and for us. Thank you ever so much and may the good Lord Bless you. William.
