Kiwanis– Kid Bake Sale

Once again Mr. Duran's class held a bake sale during our shot clinic to help benefit the animals in our care. This year they earned over $260.00. Thank you Mr. Duran and all your K-Kids that helped make this possible.

Harrison Schmitt Field Trip

Every spring students from Harrison Schmitt School hike over to visit our animals and learn about the jobs that the local Animal Control Officers preform. Top left SC ACO Vicki Kelman, Grant Co. ACO Buddy Howard, Santa Clara ACO Shirley Wiegel with Holly prepare for kids. Top right, students examine and ask questions about equipment on animal control vehicles. And to the right, if I give just one good push I'll bet we can get one more kid in this cat room.

Thank you to the teachers and volunteers that make this field trip  $$\operatorname{possible}$.$

With Appreciation

Thank you for your monetary and in-kind donations to the High Desert Humane Society. With your support we can continue to feed, house and care for the animals in our shelter. Thanks also to the many volunteers who give of their time to help support events, socialize animals, work around the shelter and at Our Paws' Cause Thrift Shop as well as assist with public awareness and education. Dog walkers, we are grateful for your continuing to help exercise and socialize our furry friends. Thanks also to the volunteers who come to play with our feline friends, you brighten their days in so many ways! We have many folks who stop in to just say hello and drop off some blankets, toys, towels or pet food. Some stay and visit a while with the animals and others must hurry on their way. Thank you, the little things you do mean a great deal to our facility. We appreciate that you think of us throughout the year. And a very special thanks to those folks who come to the shelter to search for and adopt a furry friend to share in their life.

The Signs

by Heidi Ogas

Every pet owner knows all too well the difficulty we face when the time comes to let our beloved pet cross over. That is what we faced this last March when Sherlock our Basset hound was suffering from what was believed to be a brain tumor. After he passed we were left with a huge hole in our family emotionally and physically. We knew the best thing was another dog so the search began for the right new addition. One that fits in with our family and our life style. I have always said you have to feel the connection and to decide with your head and not your heart. My heart tells me everyone needs to go home with me. We made several trips down to the Shelter looking at and walking various different sizes and colors and personalities. I have never been too caught up in specific breeds but I did mention to Gigi the Shelter Administrator that I had a Dachshund mix, Watusi, years ago and thought it would be fun to have one again. Questioning which dog was the right one, I prayed to the powers of the universe to give me strong signs to pick the right dog for us.

A few days later Gigi phoned and said she had received a call from a woman that had a little dachshund that she needed to rehome. I asked why she needed to rehome him and she said the little guy kept killing the woman's prize cockatiels. I found that interesting because Watusi, in one horrifying split second had dashed into my sister-in-law's home and pounced on their trained cockatiel fatally injuring it. Not holding instinct against either, and wondering if this was a sign, I got the woman's number and called her. We conversed, me asking more about the little dog and she asking questions to determine if we were acceptable parents. I told her that we had recently lost our basset hound and she said that she had a basset hound once and his name was SHERLOCK. My husband and I with our mouths a gape, quickly agreed that the signs were there. We needed to go meet this little guy so we headed out the door with our other dog in tow. The introduction went well and the connection happened. The signs were there that this little guy was meant to go home with us. Little Chapo has fit in quite well and brings lots of love to fill the empty space in our hearts. Sherlock is very missed but we begin another journey of creating more wonderful memories.
