

Karla Monteiro Matos is Journalist, MsC in Social Ecology, Federal University of Rio de Janeiro/UFRJ, consultant on Sustainability for state, national and international public and private institutions. Prior to that, she has worked for Rio State Environment Agency – Inea as Program Manager and contributing coordinator for Sustainomics Course, with shared Nobel Prize Winner Mohan Munasinghe. For the Brazilian Government, she has worked at Rio Botanical Garden Research Institute and for the Ministry of Environment, in Brasilia, as National Agenda 21 Coordinator and as Director for Department of Citizenship and Social Environmental Responsibility, negotiating sustainability issues including biodiversity, local development and climate change. Karla is also a Leadership on Environment and Development (LEAD) fellow, has worked as UNDP Consultant, as well as for international and local NGOs such as Greenpeace Latin America, the Institute for Society, Population and Nature - ISPN and Institute for Religious Studies - ISER as projects manager.