In the olden days, carnival sideshows drew in curious viewers by the droves and Vincent Bellini had one of the best! Bellini's Creatures of the Night featured exotic and dangerous creatures, said to have been captured by Bellini himself, and mounted for public exhibition. However, there are those who say that the beasts he displayed weren't actually dead, but that they came to life at the stroke of midnight when in the presence of humans. It is then that they exact their revenge for those who they believe have held them captive. It's even suspected Bellini suffered this fate, found in the early morning hours ripped to shreds inside the locked railroad car. Are you brave enough to enter the famous railroad car that houses Bellini's collection? Once in, there is only one way out! Can you find it before the midnight hour strikes?
