The UCS Family of Companies Welcomes a New Executive Growth Leader

The United Claim Solutions (UCS) Family of Companies is pleased to announce and welcome Rob Gelb as the company's new Chief Revenue Officer. Rob will be responsible for all aspects of revenue growth for the enterprise which will include direct oversight of all business development functions and engaging related operational, product and financial resources that serve the needs of hundreds of valued clients every day. Gelb will seek to build on the historical success of the company and will focus on business development that will drive client expansion and position the UCS Family of Companies for transformational business growth. He is an accomplished leader with a consistent record of strategic and tactical success in organizing, operating, managing and expanding profitable businesses.

"With over 20 years in expansive leadership roles including Senior Vice President of Strategic Sales at Coventry Workers' Comp Services, Managing Vice President at York Risk Services Group and Executive Vice President of Business Development at MedLogix, Gelb's direct experience in healthcare, managed care, network development and mergers and acquisitions will greatly benefit our expanding business model," states Joshua Carder, Chief Executive Officer at the United Claim Solutions Family of Companies. "UCS and its family of companies have great histories of innovative solutions that consistently exceed the expectations of their customers. I am excited and proud to join this team of professionals and look forward to being a part of our continued success going forward," adds Gelb.
