Governor Sununu
Mr. Frank Edelblut, Commissioner of Education
Members of State Senate and House Education Committees

Dear Governor Sununu, Commissioner Edelblut, and members of the State Senate and House Education Committees:

As you prepare for the next legislative session, we want to remind you that New Hampshire voters value a strong public education system.

The 2,500 voters from around the state who have signed this letter are joined together as an active and engaged citizenry to monitor and oppose any legislation that would use our taxpayer dollars to fund private schools.

We encourage you to support and strengthen public education by allocating funds to:

- Provide full-day kindergarten for all children
- Provide state assistance to renovate public schools
- Expand access to technical education for youth and adults
- Lower tuition for our community colleges and the state university system
- Support arts and humanities curricula, essential to preparing educated citizens
- Require civics education in our high schools

Investing in the future of all NH children and families by strengthening public education is vital to the future of our state.
