MARCH 3, 2019 BULLETIN RAY'S REMARKS:

K.E. FAMILY LIFELINE

Hello brethren! The burst of nice weather for the last few days was nice. However, it seems like we are headed back in to another cold snap at the end of this week. They are even talking again of the possibility of snow on the weekend. Welcome to the Ozarks.

Things are going well at the BIM lately. The students are doing a great job in their studies. It's hard to believe that we are almost through another quarter, but we are. This Quarter ends around the 26th of March. Please keep our brothers here in your prayers that they may continue to learn and grow in the things of God.

Dad is doing well in Uganda. He is now in Kampala, waiting for his flight home tomorrow. He said that things have really gone well over the past several weeks. The students are doing well and the construction is going well also. He said the walls are now up to window level. Also, electricity should be in any day now. All the poles are in and they are waiting for the line and transformer to be installed. Please pray for the good work, also. God continues to bless everything we are doing together for His sake. Praise be to God!

Please remember brother Ken Lee in your prayers. He went back to the hospital this week with serious problems with pain but has now returned home again. They still have not found anything wrong despite all the tests done. Let's pray that he might continue to feel better and that he will get back to his normal health soon.

I hope to see you all this evening at our mid-week service. May God bless us all as we continue to do His Perfect Will, knowing that our labors are not in vain. We serve a great and loving God.

MORE BUTTERFLY COLORS THAN YOU CAN SEE

Psalm 27:4, "One [thing] have I desired of the LORD, that will I seek after; that I may dwell in the house of the LORD all the days of my life, to behold the beauty of the LORD, and to inquire in his temple."

The beautiful wing of the butterfly has a lesson to teach everyone who believes living things were created by chance. The design of the butterfly wing involves much more than just intricate complexity. In addition to showing a knowledge of flight, each wing design is the product of very precise specifications built around the specific wavelengths of visible light. The iridescent colors you admire on a butterfly's wing are created by the scales of the wings. Each square centimeter of wing has tens of thousands of these scales, each attached to the wing by tiny stems and overlapping each other like cedar shakes. Each one of these scales was a living cell until a day or two before the butterfly emerged from its pupa. Each tiny scale is made of a vertical and horizontal framing within which are found various sacks of pigment hanging from the framework. Butterfly wings that seem to glow with iridescent blues and greens have scales with tiny lattices and ribbed walls that are designed to cause interference patterns in light waves within the 300-700 nanometer range - exactly the range humans see as color. That interference pattern is what our eyes interpret as iridescence. It takes a good knowledge of physics as well as micro architecture to design and build an iridescent butterfly wing! Science clearly teaches us that such ability and knowledge does not come from chance. Let's be bold to admit the truth - there is a Creator!

ELDERS' CORNER:

Hope everyone is having a good week.

We need to keep brother Ken Lee in our everyday prayers. Brother Ken is having some serious health problems and has had them for about 3 weeks. He is in Cox South Hospital. They are trying to find his problems so they can give him medication to help him. Keep Carolyn in your prayers also, as she takes care of Ken.

We have several others on our prayer list. Pray for them, also.

Brother Jerry should arrive home Friday. Keep him in your prayers that he has a safe trip home. The school in Uganda has started with 18 students. This is a good number. Please, keep all our preacher training schools in your prayers.

We are proud of our Tuesday Ladies group; they are doing a good work providing blank-faced dolls for teaching young patients about what surgery procedures they are facing. The Tuesday Ladies also make stuffed animals to comfort children who end up in the emergency room. They all have tags sewn on that publicizes our congregation. Thank you to all who help in this program.

Our TV program airs at 7:30 Sunday mornings on Channel 10. Tune in to learn more of God's Word.

Rejoice in the Lord always. Again I will say, rejoice! Philippians 4:4
