World Book Day

We will once again be celebrating reading with a themed 'dress up' competition WL491048B

tion on World Book Day which this year falls on Thursday 1st March. This year we have decided to go with nursery rhyme characters with a view to creating lots of speaking and listening opportunities between KS1 and KS2 throughout the day. We will also be offering books as prizes for the most original and inspired costume which can be chosen from the book fair, set to arrive on the 14th March.

The whole school shared text {to be revealed} will link together with a visit at the end of the week by an au-

Football Match—Friday, 9th February

There will be a football tournament on Friday, 9th February at Edgehill Junior School for year's 5 & 6 from 3.30—4.45 pm. A letter with further information will be sent out this afternoon.

Friends Meeting

Friends invite you to a meeting on Monday, 5th February 2018 at 2.45 pm at school. All very welcome!

Lent

Just a reminder that there will be a whole school Mass on 14th February {Ash Wednesday} to mark the start of Lent. The school will be supporting CAFOD's 'Give it up!' campaign. Look out for messages on dojo about how we can encourage our children in the vocation of supporting those in need across the world.

Bedtime Stories Evening

I am also really excited to give you advance notice of our next Holy Rosary Bedtime Stories Evening which will take place on 15th March. We will be inviting children from both Key Stages to come back to school in their pyjamas for a shared story time with their friends, prayer partners, teachers and family.

There will be a chance to share more of the books from the travelling book fair. We will be offering hot chocolate and biscuits and hope it will be another lovely evening to further celebrate a love of reading. Further details for the book fair and the bedtime stories will follow after half term.
