

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

NEW PSYCHOLOGICAL THRILLER "TIL DEATH DO US PART" STARRING TAYE DIGGS TO HIT THEATERS SEPTEMBER

WRITTEN & DIRECTED BY CHRISTOPHER B. STOKES

SANTA MONICA, CA. May 11, 2017 – Actor/Producer Taye Diggs, the heart throb in “How Stella Got Her Groove Back & Best Man”, stars in the psychological thriller “Til Death Do Us Part”.

The film will feature Taye Diggs as Alex the love interest to Annie Alonzeh. The (All Eyez on Me) actress will portray Madison Roland, the abused wife of Michael Roland played by Stephen Bishop (Safe House), also starring Malik Yoba and Robbine Lee. Til Death Do Us Part is an affirming and suspenseful story about a young woman's struggle to escape a violent marriage to feel safe, whole, and find the ability to love again. The production started principal photography in April of this year and is scheduled for theatrical release in late September 2017 to usher in and raise awareness of Domestic Violence Awareness Month (DVAM).

Christopher B. Stokes, the director of “You Got Served, Will to Love, Only 4 One Night, Weekend with the Family and Boy Bye”, will helm the project as writer/director. Christopher Stokes was motivated to tell a story that depicts all facets of a relationship when the pendulum swings in an unforeseen direction. The perfect relationship, the perfect marriage, the pledge “Til Death Do Us Part” that spirals into violence when one partner becomes unhinged. For survivors of Domestic Violence, who have been wounded both physically and emotionally, the movie is meant to bring awareness of the courage it takes to be a survivor and to draw attention to an issue that has become a national epidemic. Stokes is an amazing director with a unique vision of the world. In particular, his talent and skill in creating psychological intensity that will bring the characters to life.

The late September release is intended to usher in and draw attention, recognition and solidarity to Domestic Violence Awareness Month (DVAM) in October. Says Stokes, “I can't think of a more thrilling and timely film project to draw attention to the Domestic Violence Awareness Movement.”

- Christopher B. Stokes, Director

The late September release is intended to usher in and draw attention, recognition and solidarity to Domestic Violence Awareness Month (DVAM) in October. Says Stokes, “I can't think of a more thrilling and timely film project to draw attention to the movement. Madison Roland is the kind of character any director dreams of bringing to life.”

Contact

Nea Simone
Media Relations
BESPOKE Media Marketing
(424) 343.0358 – Office (424) 567.1360 – Direct
nsimone@bespokemediamarketing.com

END

###